FOREWORD

HOW CAN YOU KNOW WHAT TO BELIEVE?

In this day of conflicting stories about any one given subject, how can you expect to know the truth of each, either or neither? Go to the possibilities and then look carefully at history, background, the immediate writer or story teller, prior actions and in what relationship, etc.

Let us example here for just a minute because, as with most of the journals, there is a mish-mash of information seemingly unrelated. No, it is ALL RELATED!

PRECIOUS METALS

First we can look at our last writing of the 18th where [see last week's Front Page story] we speak of gold and precious metals and the confiscation of same by the government. Can it happen? IT HAPPENED! Once there is precedent,

YOUR OWN PERFECT MEDICINE

This article by Martha M. Christy appears in the current issue (February-March) of NEXUS (Call 815-253-6464 for subscription information or sample copy.) The world-wide proliferation of deadly designer diseases is an offshoot of the depopulation agenda of the NWO plutocrats. Their success depends on keeping us ignorant of the plot and of basic, life-saving substances and information we need to survive. The AMA, drug cartels, and other Elite-controlled organizations have spared no expense in ruining those who would bring you low-cost, effective, health-restoring treatments—and in banning the sale of safe, non-pharmaceutical products. The big-lie technique, laced with ridicule and condemnation, is also used to discredit the truth-bringers. Keep all this in mind as you read this example of “suppressed technology”, [quoting:]

There is an extraordinary natural healing substance, produced by our own bodies, that modern medical science has proven to be one of the most powerful natural medicines known to man. Unlike many other natural medical therapies, this method requires no monetary investment or doctor’s intervention and can be easily accessed and used at any time. The extensive medical research findings on this natural medicine have never been compiled and released to the general public before now, but those who have been fortunate enough to hear about this medicine and use it have found that it can produce often astounding healing even when all other therapies have failed.

My own experience with this little-known natural medicine began as a result of my search for an answer to many years of serious chronic illnesses that had begun very early in life. Like thousands of people today, I had developed chronic, degenerative disorders that couldn’t be helped by conventional medicine and which threatened to destroy permanently my ability to work, function and simply enjoy life.

From the first day I began this therapy, to my immense surprise I got almost instantaneous relief from my incurable constipation and fluid retention. Within a week, my severe abdominal and pelvic pain was unbelievably gone. The chronic cystitis and yeast infections (internal and external) soon disappeared, and food allergies, exhaustion and digestive problems all began to heal. After a few more months of the therapy I noticed that, amazingly, my colds, flu, sore throats and viral symptoms, all of which had resurfaced and become chronic after the earlier surgeries, now rarely made an appearance. My hair, which had fallen out in handfuls after my fifth surgery, became thick and lustrous, my weight normalized and my energy and strength increased so markedly that I was even able to work again. Last summer I hiked four miles into the Grand Canyon. For the first time in many years I can swim and even comfortably ride horseback or on my mountain bike for hours at a time—all formerly unimaginable activities. Much to my own and my family’s amazement, I am back at work. After 30 years of almost non-stop illness, I have a rich, full life again—all because of an unbelievably simple and effective natural medicine that almost none of us even knows exists.

So what is this mystery miracle medicine and why don’t any of us know anything about it? If the body really does produce such an amazing substance, and doctors and scientists have used it to heal people, where are the news reports, the accolades, the commercials, the media hype? You want to know the answer? Then prepare yourself by first opening your mind. Let go of your initial disbelief and preconceptions and get ready for the best-kept secret in medical history.

This extraordinary miracle medicine that numerous doctors, researchers and hundreds of people have used for healing is human urine.

Surprised? What amazes people most when they first hear about the medical use of urine is that they’ve never heard of it before. To the vast majority of mankind, urine is nothing more than a somewhat repugnant “waste” that the body has to excrete in order to function. But as you’ll discover, urine is not a waste product of the body but, rather, an extraordinarily valuable physiological substance that has been shown throughout the history of medical science right up until today to have profound medical uses that most of us know absolutely nothing about.

IT’S NOT WHAT YOU THINK

One of the first things we need to clear up is the common perception of urine. Urine is not what you think it is. In reality, urine is not, as most of us believe, the excess waste from food and liquids that goes through the intestines and is eliminated from the body. I know that we generally think of urine in just this way: you eat and drink, the intestines “wring” out the good stuff in the food, and the urine is the leftover, dirty, waste water that your body doesn’t want, so it should never, ever be reintroduced into the body in any form—right? Wrong.

No matter how popular a conception, this commonly shared scenario may be, it just isn’t true. Urine is not made in your intestines. Urine is made in and by your kidneys. So what does this mean, and why should it change the way you feel about urine? In layman’s language, this is how and why urine is made in the body. When you eat, the food you ingest is eventually broken down in the stomach and intestines into extremely small molecules. These molecules are absorbed into tiny tubules in the intestinal wall and then pass through these tubes into the bloodstream.

The blood circulates throughout your body, carrying these food molecules and other nutrients along with critical immune-defense and regulating elements such as red and white blood cells, anti-bodies, plasma, microscopic proteins, hormones, enzymes, etc., which are all manufactured at different locations in the body. The blood continually distributes its load of life-sustaining elements throughout the body, nourishing every cell and protecting the body from disease. As it flows through the body, this nutrient-filled blood passes through the liver where toxins are removed and later excreted from the body in the form of solid waste. Eventually, this purified, “cleaned” blood makes its way to the kidneys.

When the blood enters the kidneys it is filtered through an immensely complex and intricate system of minute tubules, called nephron, through which the blood is literally “squeezed” at high pressure. This filtering process removes excess amounts of water, salts and other elements in the blood that your body does not need at the time. These excess elements are collected within the kidney in the form of a purified, sterile, watery solution called urine. Many of the constituents of this filtered watery solution, or urine, are then re-absorbed by the nephron and delivered back into the bloodstream. The remainder of the urine passes out of the kidneys into the bladder and is then excreted from the body.

So, you say, the body’s gotten rid of this stuff for a reason—so why would we want to use it again? And here’s the catch. The function of the kidneys is to keep the various elements in your blood balanced. The kidneys do not filter out important elements in the blood because those elements in themselves are toxic or poisonous or bad for the body, but simply because the body did not need that particular concentration of that element at the time it was excreted. And medical researchers have discovered that many of the elements of the blood that are found in urine have enormous medicinal value, and when they are reintroduced into the body they boost the body’s immune defenses and stimulate healing in a way that nothing else does. Scientists have discovered that urine, because it is actually extracted from our blood, contains small amounts of almost all of the life-sustaining nutrients, proteins, hormones, anti-bodies and immunizing agents that our blood contains.

To us, the public, urine seems like an undesirable waste product of the body, but to the medical research community and the drug industry it’s been considered to be liquid gold. [The article contains a lengthy discussion of the commercial medical applications of urine and urea (the principal organic solid in urine) derivatives in use today, such as Ureaphil (a diuretic made from urea); Urofollitropin and Pergonal (urine-extract fertility drugs); Uracin (urea cream for skin problems); Amino-Cerv (urea cream for cervical treatments); Premarin (urine-extract estrogen supplement); Panafil (urea-pain ointment for skin ulcers, burns, and infected wounds); Urokinase “Autouropathy (urine therapy) did flourish in many parts of the world and it continues to flourish today... There is, unknown to most of us, a wide usage of uropathy and a great volume of knowledge available showing the multitudinous advantages of this modality... Urine is only a derivative of the blood... Normally excreted, urine is a fluid of tremendous variations of compositions...” Dr. John R. Herman, Clinical Professor of Urology at Albert Einstein College of Medicine, in an article titled “Autourotherapy”, published in the New York State Journal of Medicine (vol 80, no. 7, June 1980).

(an enzyme that dissolves blood clots and is used to treat victims of heart attacks).] Medical researchers have also proven that urea is one of the best and only medically proven, effective skin moisturizers in the world. So, surprising as it seems, urine and urea do have an amazing, voluminous history in both traditional and modern medicine.

Many doctors have discovered and shown that it’s extremely important to use our own natural urine in healing because extracts or synthetic drug forms of urine don’t contain all of these individualized elements that address our personal individual health needs. Another reason that many doctors have emphasized the use of the natural form of urine is that it does not produce side-effects whereas synthetic drugs and therapies all produce side-effects, many of which are extremely dangerous. An example, the urine-extract drug called urokinase, which is used to dissolve dangerous blood clots, can cause serious abnormal bleeding as a side-effect; but natural urine itself, which contains measurable amounts of urokinase, has been used medicinally even in extremely large quantities without causing side-effects.

In almost 100 years of laboratory and clinical studies on the use of natural urine and simple urea in medicine, extraordinary results have been obtained, but NO toxic or dangerous side-effects to the user have ever been observed or reported by either researchers or patients using the therapy. [End of quoting.]

Ms. Christy's article is extracted from her book, Your Own Perfect Medicine, which is available from FutureMed, Inc. To order a copy, call 1-800-800-8849. The price is $19.95 plus $4.00 postage and handling.

Last week's News Desk featured articles about meningitis outbreaks occurring in children across the country. In her book, Ms. Christy discusses the favorable results obtained in a 1956 study by Drs. Javid and Settlege, reported in the Journal of the American Medical Association, on the reduction of cerebrospinal fluid pressure using urea in cases of meningitis (page 95).

And what about the new strains of tuberculosis unleashed upon us? You may want to read for yourself Report #14, "The Effect of Human Urine on Tubercule Bacilli", by Dr. K.B. Bjornesjo, from the Department of Medical Chemistry, Uppsala, Sweden (page 91), or several others on this same subject in Martha Christy's book.

What about AIDS? Here's an excerpt from the August 9, 1990 Bay Reporter, quoted in Your Own Perfect Medicine:

"Thanks to the research of Dr. Alvin Friedman-Kien and his staff at the New York University Medical Center it was discovered in 1988 that the antibodies to HIV-1 appear in the urine of patients diagnosed with AIDS. ...according to the involved researchers 'urine is not considered infectious because it has not been shown to contain the virus, only the antibodies'."

Also included is a quote from SPIN magazine, in which one AIDS patient reportedly had excellent results with urine therapy, [quoting from page 127:]

Quique Palladino was diagnosed with AIDS, Kaposi's Sarcoma, and numerous infections last year. Today, he claims to have gone into complete remission, thanks to urine therapy. 'All my KS lesions are (now) gone. The mouth ulcers that used to plague me have not returned. I used to have monthly outbreaks of genital herpes, but that's gone too. And even more importantly, my T-cell count has gone up.'

Since urine contains the specific antibodies needed by each individual, it would seem a promising therapy for DNA-recombinant diseases such as AIDS, as well as "mystery" diseases, such as Gulf War Syndrome. [End of quoting.]

The February 1 issue of THE TORONTO STAR warns of a deadly threat of malaria, [quoting:]

Deadly malaria is a threat to Ontarians but most doctors don't grasp its dangers, warn Toronto tropical experts who treat more than 100 malaria victims a year. Many family physicians still issue travellers traditional anti-malarial drugs, unaware that they no longer work against resistant strains, says Dr. Jay Keystone, director of the Toronto Hospital's tropical disease unit. [End of quoting.]

Well, speaking of malaria, Your Own Perfect Medicine (page 192) reports that when a British soldier in World War II "was sent to the Far East to fight, he contracted malaria which he cured himself in just three days on a urine and water fast, and he reported that he never had a recurrence."

Something to think about.

DEPOPULATION UPDATE

From the 12/17 issue of the SUNDAY OKLAHOMAN (Oklahoma City, OK), [quoting:]

KAMPALA, Uganda (A)—More than 10 million African children will be made orphans by the AIDS virus by the end of the century, the World Health Organization said. The U.N. agency also predicted that up to 10 million children will have been born with the disease in Africa by 2000, infected by their parents and doomed to die. The agency made the forecasts at a conference in Kampala. [Well, they should know, since they are major instigators.]

Spelt

New Gaia Presents Bread Mixes, Flour & Kernels

Spelt is the most ancient and very best grain. Spelta (its more formal name) is a grain of its own unique being. It is the best fiber resource and has large amounts of B-17 (anti-carcinoma). The grain berry grows an exceptionally thick husk that protects it from pollutants and insects. It is stored with its husks intact, so it remains fresher. Thus, unlike other grains, it is not normally treated with pesticides or other chemicals. The strong, protective husk may also be a metaphorical signature of this grain's capacity to strengthen immunity. Spelt contains special carbohydrates (Mucopolysaccharides) which are an important factor in blood clotting and stimulating the body's immune system.

New Gaia offers Bread Mixes that use pure Spelt flour instead of wheat. The taste is uniquely nutty and enjoyable for the whole family. Also offered are combination Bread Mixes with both Spelt flour and whole wheat flour. Both are perfect for a 2 lb. loaf of bread which can be utilized in the Hitachi Bread Machine or others of its equal. The mixes are easy to use with only the simple addition of water, butter & sweetener. The packages come in 2 lb. sizes only.

Also available are whole spelt flour packages for your baking and homemade bread needs that come in 2 lb., 4 lb. and 8 lb. sizes.

You may also order the whole spelt kernels that can be milled at home into flour. These come in 4 lb. and 10 lb. bags.

SAUERKRAUT-SPELT STEW

- 2 tbl. butter or oil
- 1 large onion, chopped
- 2 c. chopped tomatoes (canned or fresh)
- 1 1/2 c. cooked spelt kernels
- Sauté onion in butter til just wilted; add tomatoes and spelt and cook, stirring frequently, for about 7 minutes, until onions are lightly browned. Reduce heat to low.
- 1/4 tsp. sea salt
- 1/8 tsp. pepper
- 1/2 tsp. grated lemon rind
- 1 tsp. caraway seeds
- 1 c. vegetable or chicken broth
- Stir in, cover, cook for 20 minutes.
- 1 lb. sauerkraut (rinse if too sour)
- Stir in sauerkraut. To preserve enzymes, do not reheat beyond 110 degrees. Serve with spelt toast. Serves 3-4

Gold, People Control & Searching For Truth

readers, there is PROBABILITY that it will happen again. It is under way: Senate Bill 307 is now ready for a House vote. Further, once a thing has reached the point of having Congressional "Bills" and resolutions introduced, it is seriously being considered. Further, when there is very little public attention to the Bill, it is even more likely that SOMETHING is taking place behind your backs.

Now, in addition, when the push gets "on" from the gold DEALERS, beware, for in this instance they act as if everything is fine, warn you to go for the gold stashing and get as much as you can, so something else is then to be considered: possibilities.

It is sad for me to see one I greatly respect, Ron Paul, NOT even mentioning this Bill to take gold from the public. This time it includes certain silver as well. The assumption is, of course, that you would be refunded (returned) Fed notes for the confiscated metals and/or certificates of some kind. You now KNOW that those certificates are not ever honored "LATER" AS CAN BE ATTESTED BY THE OLD CERTIFICATES NOW WITHOUT REDEMPTION VALUE AT ALL.

What should you do and with whom should you move? I can't answer that question, for you have so many things to look at which are never told to you in the mainstream information media.

First: You have gold shipments being stopped, raided, or sunk coming in from the Philippines and being shifted all about the globe—trying to get into the U.S. to back some of your currency or pay debts which could save your economy.

Second: There has to be a way of CONTROLLING the very commodity upon which economies are based.

This includes commodities that have "futures" on a trading board like agricultural products.

Third: There has to be some way to satisfy a "national emergency" cause of action and it has to relate to the currency or monetary value system or it won't work.

Therefore, with the myriad of other things relative to the likelihood of confiscation of precious metals—YOU HAVE TO TAKE THIS INTO MAJOR CONSIDERATION.

You, further, have to consider where to keep your gold and silver. Do you keep it in a Bank vault? Well, they raided the bank vaults and deposit boxes in 1933.

Do you bury it in your yard? Not too wise for the detection can be accomplished from satellite detectors.

Can you convert it to jewelry? Yes, but later you have to have it assayed to prove value and the transition is difficult and expensive. There is also a law against DEFACING money.

Can you store it off shore in, say, Swiss banks? Yes, but the likelihood of ever retrieving it is zilch to zero after the "takeover".

Can you still use it for "value collateral"? Yes, briefly, but already the commodity for such purposes is hard to come by and at some point the banks will close to such borrowing modes, in all probability.

You have to deal with WHAT IS and utilize a "break" while you can and then be prepared to change or give it up as rules change.

CALCULATED TOTAL CONTROL

There will be no "perfect" anything for the masses in this changing (intentional) world. The point is to take control of you-the-people and ALL PROPERTY. They are NOT going to overlook something as valuable as gold—UNLESS THEY DEVALUE IT TO THE POINT OF TOTAL NON-VALUE.

The attempt is always to gradually strangle you to death, disease you to death, and plague you to death through the markets as well as through disease. They take away jobs which means the removal of income for living; they then take away assistance so you don't have even temporary resources; they take away "treatments" for your illnesses, and finally the point is to accomplish depopulation and a society UNDER TOTAL CONTROL AND WITHOUT ASSETS OF ANY KIND EXCEPT THAT WHICH YOU ARE ALLOTTED BY THEM!

The final collapse will come SUDDENLY after the pre-conditioning has taken place, but you will have lulled yourselves into sleep again and again so that when the "disaster" strikes in reality—you will be shocked out of your senses but you will have nowhere to run and no place to hide—you will be at the mercy of whatever comes upon you. Further, the massive blows will strike at once so as to totally overwhelm you-the-people AND THE SYSTEMS SET UP TO ASSIST. If, for instance, you have a financial collapse at the same time you have ten major quakes in major cities, a plague underway, and a few tornados with which to simultaneously contend—you have a picture of total and absolute chaos. If water is nil or contaminated, gas flow is either burning or nonexistent, no way to travel or get fuel for vehicles, no food supplies OR they are contaminated—YOU HAVE BIG PROBLEMS, any one of which can devastate a nation and a society. In this scenario a nation's population comes instantly UNDER CONTROL WITH A CRUST OF BREAD!

Another thing we all have to face is the fact that if you cannot legally have gold and silver—YOU CANNOT HAVE GOLD AND SILVER COLLOIDS OR COMPOUNDS TO FIGHT THE DISEASES NOW POURING IN UPON YOU. Do you actually think the very destroyers are going to long allow you recourse to their dastardly deeds? You CAN store some precious colloids more easily than you can store the metals—but they will eventually check that out as well. When that happens just pray that you are in good enough immune system shape to hang on through the assaults and I know no other route to that end than the Drias and nobody else has those nor knows how to make them thrive.

I can't walk in and tell you what to do, for Dharma would be lynched and there are always the attackers—ALWAYS. Even in total ignorance there are the attackers and destroyers of their own SECURITY.

SAFETY TUNNELS

Your next question SHOULD be: "What about the Elite? What will they do?" Oh, I think if you look around pretty carefully you will find that there are places in the East, other nations such as Australia, and in the West where the tunneling systems connect and/or are now having major openings drilled to allow access. One major such tunnel is at Yucca Mountain in Nevada. This tunnel is supposedly to house spent nuclear waste from power plants. No, that is the cover story to keep you from noticing that billions of dollars are being spent for doing something which NO ONE thinks will house nuclear waste. This is just ONE MORE THING being accomplished right under your noses where you won't see. Moreover there are other tunnels already THERE with little cities already structured—and you can even get tours into some of those if there is any "excuse" as to need to be there.

There were big plans for these storage "dumps" being considered all over the map—even in Texas, right IN THE MIDDLE and "over" the biggest AQUIFER in the U.S. Wouldn't this be dangerous to the major water supply? Of course—IF you used the facility for storage—but that is only a COVER to allow deep digging and construction unnoted. What was desired THERE was to have access to THAT WATER SUPPLY!

These are the very ways that once flourishing planets became DEAD PLANETS!

PREPAREDNESS EXPO

I am very often asked, "Should I go to the Expo?". That is only for you to decide; I can't tell you where to go and what to do. I am asked, if people come as far as Las Vegas in March, would we have a meeting also, somewhere? I can't answer that one either—YOU HAVE TO DECIDE WHAT YOU WANT TO HAVE HAPPEN, THE VALUE INVOLVED IN SUCH A TRIP, ETC. I would like to see you come if for nothing else than to find out what Nevada Corporate Headquarters can offer you in protection and shelter through corporations in Nevada. But then again, we have had people go to the seminars specifically for that learning and come out without any idea as to how to properly handle a corporation as is evidenced by some of the recent antics while Green tried to gain control of one of our reader's corporations. The right way was obviously not even considered—so they blew the corporations entirely and now have the LAW WITH WHICH TO CONTEND. A TOOL IS ONLY AS GOOD AS THE ONE WHO USES IT. Anyones wishing to come visit in Tehachapi are always welcome and if we know you are coming we'll bake a cake or make a sandwich—maybe even have some spelta spaghetti and garlic spelta bread!

I am also asked if anyone from CONTACT will be there for a booth? I don't know—contact CONTACT. It would seem like a good place to present the paper and journals for public reference as other businesses present their products. I would also suppose there would be a great interest in New Gaia products, possibly, and certainly SPELTA as a "new-old" grain of perfection might be brought to attention of the visitors. I certainly DO NOT SUGGEST ATTENTION TO EXTRATERRESTRIALS TO ANY GREAT EXTENT—ALTHOUGH THE DESIRED PRESENTATION OF SUCH IS COMING TO HAUNT YOU AND LAS VEGAS IS RIGHT WHERE THE CUTEST LITTLE GRAYS HANG OUT! Since we don't "hang out" with that crowd you are NOT going to find us socializing in that vicinity. You who head out there to the booths with your pink ink and purple shirts to spread the word about our work and CONTACT ARE REALLY MAKING A BIG MISTAKE—WE ARE NOT ALIENS; WE ARE SIMPLY DOING OUR JOB. When ALL OF YOU OF OUR OWN FRIENDS COME TO TREAT US IN THIS MANNER WE WILL BEGIN TO MAKE HEADWAY IN A VERY POSITIVE MANNER. ALSO REMEMBER: WE ARE NOT IN THE "GO TO WAR WITH ANYTHING" MODE. WE ONLY SUGGEST LIVING WITHIN ALL LAWS, WITHIN WHATEVER SYSTEM IS UPON US—AND DOING THE JOB RIGHT. YOU DON'T HAVE TO "SOVEREIGNIZE" FOR YOU ARE ALREADY SOVEREIGN—IF YOU JUST RECLAIMED THE CONSTITUTIONAL RIGHT TO SAME.

We are also not in the "save the world" interest. Each individual who wants to save self—can or not, whichever pleases him/her. We offer truth in information and a lot of WARNINGS about what is taking place that are not offered elsewhere. My INTEREST is in individual and collective SOUL, but that is not too popular either, so I would say here and now that each person individual is welcome to his own idea of soul—but it is THE THING WHICH SHALL DECIDE YOUR FATE. We are not in the "healing" business, either, save to offer tools which might allow you to heal yourself. We are not in the interest or business of doing anything FOR ANYBODY. If you come visit us we will be gracious as any family gathering would be, have a picnic or something, share some togetherness and what we are doing and what you're doing and thus and so. God truly does have HIS messengers scattered around everywhere—you just don't see them much for they are BUSY—and not SELLING "their" way of spiritual intent other than as they live and breathe. YOU are the miracle; we are only the sharing of the miracle.

Do we experience more miracles? Probably NOT but we DO RECOGNIZE THEM MORE AND MORE FREQUENTLY NOW—BECAUSE WE STUDY AND LEARN WHAT TO LOOK FOR—IN TRUTH OF PRESENTATION.

DON'T WE PREACH?

No. Sometimes we are passionate about a given topic and get a little bit loud—but it is time you people get passionate about your mission on this place of physical manifestation for you have about non-passioned your way to death. The "Oh Well...!" and "Whatever..." is destroying your very soul. Another one I deplore is: "God will take care of me!" God will also let you perish dead away! GOD EXPECTS YOU TO TAKE CARE OF SELF AND LEARN THE BEST WAY WITH GODLY INTENT TO FUNCTION WITHIN HIS WONDERS AND WITHIN HIS LAWS WHILE MEETING THE OBLIGATION OF STAYING WITHIN THE LAWS OF THE LAND.

I have no wish to have people around me who do not like me or my expressions—so, why would I go advertise for viewers and open up to more harangue? If YOU want truth in GOD and dimensional truth then YOU will find our work and find your interest and your way in comfort. We offer no MYSTICISM or mystical magic by which you can wave a flag or a pendant, mumble some words, stir some physical blood and chicken parts and make your sacrifices to BUY your way to eternal adversarial disadvantage. Man doesn't want to believe TRUTH even though it is so much more beautiful and wondrous in FACT. Man wishes to do his silly "physical" things in error and then be "saved" by another Man's bloodshed. It simply is not that way, readers, and all your DRUTHERS and evangelists will not change an iota from that truth. God is absolute love and acceptance—HE IS NOT UNCONDITIONAL! No MAN can be murdered and die FOR YOUR SINS. Those are acts of physical expression and SOUL IS NOT PHYSICAL—AND YOU WILL ANSWER FOR

YOUR ACTIONS—JUST YOU AND GOD!

May your journey take you to where you have studied your lessons and learned truth that you might walk in KNOWING. There is nothing so wondrous in all eternity or infinity which is so wonderful as being before God with head high and honor reflected in your own being. The epitome, the zenith, of all presentations is never having to say "I'm sorry" to God for anything.

Identification Title:

ETERNAL QUEST FOR TRUTH

The eternal quest for truth is that which seems elusive only because, when you FIND truth, it is not that which appeals to the human physical manifestation. After FINDING truth, however, never again can it be "unfound" and if you purposely turn away from that found truth, never again is there the innocence of life actions NOR INTENT. If you continue or return to the life of dark passages, you will be stuck in that trap for you lose acceptance of brothers who have felt the pain of your deliberate and painful intent. Once you KNOW you can NEVER again UN-KNOW. Physical expression IS NOT "REALITY"! SOUL BEARS "REALITY".

And How Some Walk The Path

2/21/96 #2 HATONN

SOMETIMES WE ARE TOO SLOW

This is one of those times! I intended to just continue this writing as in one document. However, there were necessary things to do so the first part of the writing has already GONE. I will leave it to the Editors as to how best to handle the continuation of subject matter.

I would have liked to have taken this opportunity, while speaking on the subject of health, to respond to a beloved friend doctor in South Africa. However, the profusion of questions and information sent and "set aside" for a spare minute to respond has somehow been eaten by the black hole-bottomless pit of entropy surrounding Dharma. She "secured" the packet so carefully that we cannot now locate it. It would be interesting and, of course, bears information all of you should access but at the moment we cannot spare more time for searching through the piles of recently received papers.

I suppose we will let her off the hook this time and allow a breather to reflect on the "security" location. We might be well advised to allow for this respite as there is trouble with the FDA, at least eight ongoing but requiring daily input to legal suits, etc., letters like the above "emergency" status communications and finally the mind turns off and will proclaim to me from the mouth in her face that she never heard of South Africa, human life forms, planet Earth and other such symptoms in presentation as to tell me I had better mind my own requests.

FLUORIDE

The only "safe" FLUORIDE is that which is in a colloidal state and that only in most minute quantity. So, what I have suggested for use with FLUORIDE toothpaste is simply to counter the two substances which are quite toxic to the system of human—aluminum and mercury. These are readily available in so much of your living environment as to require attention. Do not think that you can just brush your teeth with FLUORIDE toothpaste and continue to intake the harmful substances—but, brushing your teeth a couple of times a day with a FLUORIDE-containing toothpaste and rinsing the mouth will counter to some great degree the escaping particles or molecule-ions of mercury fillings in the teeth and somewhat counter the use of aluminum-based antiperspirants. I am totally against the adding of this substance into public water supplies because you cannot determine the content as more and more water supplies are brought from many sources into a single supply. All THINGS (elements) are NECESSARY for total life form, however, not in the forms usually presented, so without more specific information as to the inquiry I can't competently respond. Please know that I acknowledge the package and we will try to locate it. We do know one thing—NOTHING around this place is ever discarded and with a move looming before us the heart grows fearful at the thought of packing and shifting to even lesser space allowances.

Our hearts are grateful to you friends who assisted with allowing the ability to replace the rent amounts which does allow a breathing space to continue the efforts to reclaim the bank account funds taken by the lawyers. The funds are not yet returned and it appears will never be—but the vacate negotiations are stalled temporarily. The property is going to be sold, however, so we only have delay, not solution. When and "IF" funds are returned the "help" funds will be placed in the "get the CONTACT out" coffer. There is humble gratitude from ones here because we really can't handle much more load without relief.

SEMJASE-SILVER-STAR-CENTER

This topic keeps popping up in many pieces of mail and other communications. It is noted that they "distance themselves and the Pleiadians", from George Green, etc. Well, that may well be wise but they do NOT have anything else correct in their prattlings and beware of this representation, readers, of "Billy" Eduard Albert Meier. There isn't ANYTHING left worth note in that CENTER. How can we know this to be fact? They have a "MANIFESTO". "MAN"ifesto means OF MAN and that, in these terms, means man of Earth in doctrinal protocols. When people choose this WORD to use as in this instance "OUR MANIFESTO"—beware!! They don't single out George Green but note that George does have many (he says around 1500) pictures from Billy Meier whom he personally met and from whom he got the pictures. It was all entangled with Lee Elders, Wendelle Stevens, etc.

As to those pictures, I have no input other than Billy claimed his pictures had been "taken" (stolen) and I would feel anyone with 1000 to 1500 of same would surely be suspect. I do not and never have believed George has any such number of pictures and would hope I am correct for he has enough problems on his own account these days.

That "center" denounces many, many of those who contacted Billy early on and that is their prerogative as I feel somewhat the same about several of the entities named. Just realize that the information coming from that source is NOT VALID, readers. You certainly are welcome to do what you will about that for certainly the interest is real and original contacts were valid. Since the "wedding cake" craft is used as their symbol, be even more cautious for that is but a model and is purely insane in concept for intercosmic use—period.

No one can make a fool of you—YOU have to make the fool of self. It is the law of the Cosmos! Further, gain information from any resource available and recognize your own potential of perfection by LEARNING everything you can—and then make INFORMED choices. I would pay far more attention to aliens in the instance of the craft which crashed in South Africa on Sept. 15, 1995. We wrote about it from information sent from South Africa. This is REAL STUFF, readers, and far more interesting than arguing over contacts and reality quarrels. All the information has been classified as Top Secret—but the powers that be HAVE THAT CRASHED CRAFT. It was a silver-gray disc of about 60 feet diameter and about 9 feet in height. It came in so "hot" as to ignite the surrounding area. There could be no opening found. When the craft cooled enough to get near it, it was set up in a "sterile" area and all visitors were arrested and removed from the site—including the man on whose land it crashed. There was NOT a mark on the object even though it tore up the countryside in its "landing". Now, readers, THIS is interesting—not a quarrel of the "rights" of some channel or another with George Green. Poor George is simply caught up in some of this and is quite innocent of a lot of things.

The group that TOOK OVER BILLY is not your run-of-the-mill, helpful souls working toward your perfection and they will eat your lunch if they get a chance. They literally shot at Billy and almost killed him and finally they have managed to take total control. This is unfortunate but intervention is not going to happen in this case for there is no reason to continue the farce. Once discounted and willingly discredited, the higher beings move elsewhere into clean and untampered vistas for communication.

But how can you know that "they" are in error? Well, in the blast at Green, they include authors who have nothing to do with Green's input, Phoenix Source (which has NOTHING to do with George Green) and therefore the information CANNOT be accurate. It is not fair, for instance, to discredit Bruce Cathie or Dolores Cannon just because Green published some of their works through America West. America West Publishers and Distributors HAVE NOT AN IOTA OF CONNECTION WITH PHOENIX SOURCE AND NEVER DID, DON'T AND NEVER SHALL! Everyone has a RIGHT to say what they like but it does make the speaker seem quite silly when the information used is so badly incorrect. And, further, be careful for that Center has put out a document A Crusade Against Overpopulation which might well come right out of the United Nations solutions to overpopulation as well as Jason Brent's famous writings in the Mensa Society journal on depopulation and overpopulation. This garbage DOES NOT COME FROM HIGHER BEINGS FROM ANYWHERE. THIS IS SIMPLY ONE MORE EXAMPLE OF TRUTH, THEY "SUCK YOU IN", AND WHEN YOU BELIEVE—BLOW YOU AWAY! YOU have to evaluate each thing for self.

When a group puts out a "manifesto"—you know you are dealing with very Earth-bound entities—WITHOUT GOD-CREATOR AT SOURCE.

Meet every perception of error

THE CROOKED CALF PATH

I would like to share a little writing that came from a reader in Montana, this week. It exemplifies the way "things" happen and how they continue no matter how foolish or illogical. It also shows you why you must be ever alert to CHANGE. I will be even more direct: check out what we write and the minute it DOES NOT MESH WITH THE LAWS OF GOD—QUESTION IT!! Once you KNOW, you can easily discern the wheat from the chaff.

With that in mind, let us share:

THE CROOKED CALF PATH

 One day through the primeval wood
A calf walked home as all calves should
But it made a trail all bent askew
A crooked path as most calves do
That trail was taken up next day
By a lone dog that passed that way
Then a wise bellwether sheep
Pursued the trail o'er vail and steep
And from that day o'er hill and glade
Through those old hills a trail was made
And many men wound in and out
And dodged and turned and bent about
They uttered words of righteous wrath
Because was such a crooked path
This forest lane became a road
Where many a poor horse with his load
Traveled on beneath the burning Sun.
Traveling some three miles in one
The years passed on in swiftness fleet
The road became a village street
And this before men were aware
A city's crowded thoroughfare
Each day a hundred thousand route
Followed that zig-zag calf about
And o'er his crooked journey went
The traffic of a continent
They followed still his crooked way
And lost a hundred years a day
For this such reverence is lent
To well established precedent
For men are prone to go it blind
Along the calf path of the mind
They work away from Sun to Sun
To do what other men have done
They follow in the beaten track
And in and out and forth and back
And still their devious course pursue
To keep the path that others do
They keep the path a sacred groove
Along which all their lives they move
But how the wise old wood Gods laugh
Who saw the first primeval calf

Walter Sam Foss

Thank you Montana!

The doctor as mentioned above from South Africa brings to our attention just how silly we ducks are who believe and trust with no foundation upon which to base decisions—OTHER than on what is presented to "train" you. His article, as I recall, and that which he wishes to share is on the topic of "Oral Lithiasis". (Lithiasis means the formation of calculi and concretions in the body.) This is also why the discussion of fluorides because there is a lot to be said for the use of minimal intake of same and especially in the tooth care process.

I know that this party inquires as to how much HF (hydrofluoric acid) is in the fluorides used for preventative dentistry? And worse to admit, is that I don't know and I would further guess that the amounts will vary all over the map.

In addition, he inquired if HF is more carcinogenic than other fluorides? Again, I can't really equate this to FACT. Neither or BOTH, depending on circumstances, can be harmless or carcinogenic in use. Carcinogens are simply things which cause a mutation of cellular structure. In most cases, if the body has good immune defenses the NORMAL mutation is simply cast off, so I can't specifically focus on one or the other. I do know that a minimal amount of this substance will help negate the damage of aluminum and mercury. I also realize that it will harden the tooth covering but also, in overuse, hardens other substances as well which can literally kill a person. It is noted that people in FLUORIDE-heavy water will have HARD, strong teeth but which are also discolored. They will also show hard bones and other symptoms of too much FLUORIDE, but for the most part the bodies are quite unimpaired from overabundance.

The major problem of putting FLUORIDE into the water supply is that the calculated numbers and quantity of intake of water is distorted. This in itself presents the greatest lie right off the bat and then the ball bounces around to finally be lost in the lies.

FLUORIDE interferes greatly with Vitamin E, which I feel is one of the most important substances to guard your good and healthy heart, so I consider too much FLUORIDE to be a very serious problem. Remember that everything is connected and when you tamper with the BALANCE of "Nature" you are going to reap some negative rewards.

I will most certainly see to it that the papers are located because this is important to all you citizens—especially in the USA where Big Brother "acts in your 'best' interest".

CAN'T GO BACK

When we ponder on the things even as above with something like putting FLUORIDE in the water supply—KNOW THAT YOU MUST BE CARING UP FRONT—BECAUSE YOU CAN'T GO BACK AND DO IT DIFFERENTLY. You may well be able to adjust and change and help or destroy that which came before—but what WAS remains always exactly THAT. We cannot ever go back again. It is good that it is so, friends, for what would you do in that "past"? You think you would change? No, you would not for if you go back—ALL THINGS GO BACK and you would again be without the wisdom gained from the forward expression.

Yesterday's experiences will always be reflected in those of today. We all learn from both the good and the bad situations of experiences of "yesterday". What you must attend is what you do and to where you travel today lest you ramble on that silly "calf path" hither and yon without reason or your OWN direction. Remember too that what YOU experience is truly YOURS ALONE for no OTHER shall have the same impact or the same perceptions of ANYTHING. The doors behind you are closed forever—but the way of truth and experience in memory is forever open.

You must then face what comes to you, with strength, in the knowledge of all you can gain and realize that facing the immediate circumstance is a gift of lessons in example—to be mastered. Your destiny is built in the present to utilize in the perceived "future" as well as today. Don't blow your future expectations by FAILING today.

I speak of this because so many of you are very weary of keeping on keeping on and I honor that state of being. Let us be sure, however, that the fatigue is real and not simply from frustration and the desire to "give up". After an addiction is controlling you—it is too late for you unless you regain control of self. And, precious friends, who dwell within circles of refusal to see and hear to being within a loop of physical addiction by self or loved ones, the answer is not in "giving in" or "up"—it is in tough love which requires the other to be responsible FOR SELF. Most often if YOU do not support the weakness in that other—there will be growth.

However, to try to live FOR that other is in gross error. Remember also, you who serve truth, the Adversary will always hit you through those you love most so DO NOT FALL FOR THE TRICKS. Do not fall for the old trick of the trade that somehow YOU can solve the "other's" problems—YOU CANNOT! It really doesn't matter if your loved one suffers from ignorance, lifestyle destruction, addictions or "just don't give a damn"—you have to have the same set of rules for gaining your service and attention as any other person. This is difficult but a necessity for crutches for the infirm will often bear up the crippled in spirit.

I am going to get a bit feisty about people who work in our local businesses and yet treat us as if we have no bother to them. If they take from us—they do affect us and if they do not even choose to participate with us—then we will in some circumstances, especially friends and family, have to bid them find engagement elsewhere. We are not the whipping boy nor the provider. Your needs are not my demands and I will help wherein I can but you will not dictate my requirements. Rules are for ALL if they be business regulations or laws. I do not bless drinking on the job or on the road behind a steering wheel. Your addictions have no right to impact another's space or a child's safety—or the business environment in which such actions breed mistakes on a very basic level.

There are difficult paths made MORE DIFFICULT by your own self-destructive natures, but only YOU can be responsible for that which YOU DO. Therefore to break these rules is not acceptable but you must first, to be beneficial, be unacceptable to self with willingness and eagerness to change.

Therefore, if you suffer addictions—go get yourself into a rehabilitation program and get healed in the heart and mind and accept and love yourself—for until you do, you cannot heal your body. This is the one area of your Welfare system that I can approve—the ability to check self into a program for healing when you are without support otherwise. And, believe me, you WILL be without support otherwise as you move within the ruts of continuation of self-abuse.

If I tread on toes—so be it for better I offer truth and remain your friend, than pick you up as a "road-kill". You as a species have forgotten how to love self and therein lies the inability to love another, even your own children, enough to be responsible. And, by the way, don't think that YOU are fooling those around you—you are not.

I am going to start withdrawing help to those who simply self-center on selves and expect others to attend them while they misbehave and become burdens. No way is this acceptable. If you are so irresponsible as to abuse another physically or mentally by your self-centered antics—so be it—you WILL GO ELSEWHERE and this makes no difference whether you be 90 years old or only "of age". YOU have NO RIGHT to burden another with your mean-spirited demands. This is not some ommune where your commands hold any water at all. If you break the laws or your word—so long Buster. And, furthermore—your Mercedes may well be your poison. There is too much to do around these parts, or anywhere, for anyone to be saddled with YOUR selfishness.

I certainly do hope everybody understands me!
If shoes fit—please wear them.
Good afternoon.

Part V: Understanding The Legal Process

Part I of Rick's well-researched series on the U.S. legal system appeared in the 1/23/96 issue of CONTACT on page 8; Part II was in the 1/30/96 CONTACT on p. 5; Part III was in the 2/6/96 issue on p. 9; Part IV was in the 2/13/96 CONTACT on p. 10. We continue below with this exposé.

2/20/96 RICK MARTIN

Oftentimes it helps to review where we've been to gain some real perspective about where we are. With that in mind, in his now rare 1827 work, Commentaries On American Law, James Kent writes, [quoting:]

OF THE LAW CONCERNING THE RIGHTS OF PERSONS

Of The Absolute Rights Of Persons

The rights of persons in private life are either absolute, being such as belong to individuals in a single, unconnected state; or relative, being those which arise from the civil and domestic relations.

The absolute rights of individuals may be resolved into the right of personal security, the right of personal liberty, and the right to acquire and enjoy property. These rights have been justly considered, and frequently declared, by the people of this country, to be natural, inherent and unalienable. The effectual security and enjoyment of them depend upon the existence of civil liberties; and that consists in being protected and governed by laws made, or assented to, by the representatives of the people, and conducive to the general welfare. Right itself in civil society, is that which any man is entitled to have, or to do, or to require from others, within the limits prescribed by law. The history of our colonial governments bears constant marks of the vigilance of a free and intelligent people, who understood the best securities for political happiness, and the true foundation of the social ties. The inhabitants of the colonies of Plymouth and Massachusetts, in the infancy of their establishments, declared by law that the free enjoyment of the liberties which humanity, civility, and Christianity called for, was due to every man in his place and proportion, and ever had been, and ever would be, the tranquillity and stability of the commonwealth. They insisted that they brought with them into this country the privileges of English freemen; and they defined and declared those privileges with a caution, sagacity, and precision, that have not been surpassed by their descendants. Those rights were afterwards, in the year of 1692, on the receipt of their new charter, re-asserted and declared. It was their fundamental doctrine, that no tax, aid, or imposition whatsoever, could rightfully be assessed or levied upon them, without the act and consent of their own legislature; and that justice ought to be equally, impartially, freely, and promptly administered. The right of trial by jury, and the necessity of due proof preceding conviction, were claimed as undeniable rights; and it was further expressly ordained, that no person should suffer without express law, either in life, limb, liberty, good name, or estate; nor without being first brought to answer by due course and process of law.

The first act of the general assembly of the colony of Connecticut, in 1639, contained a declaration of rights in nearly the same language; and among the early resolutions of the general assembly of the colony of New York, in 1691 and 1708, we meet with similar proofs of an enlightened sense of the provisions requisite for civil security. It was declared by them, that the imprisonment of subjects without due commitment for legal cause, and proscribing and forcing them into banishment, and forcibly seizing their property, were illegal and arbitrary acts. It was held to be the unquestionable right of every freeman, to have a perfect and entire property in his goods and estate; and that no money could be imposed or levied, without the consent of the general assembly. The erection of any court of judicature without the like consent, and exactions upon the administration of justice, were declared to be grievances. Testimonies of the same honorable character are doubtless to be met with in the records of other colony legislatures. It was regarded and claimed by the general assemblies in all the colonies, as a branch of their sacred and indefeasible rights, that the exclusive power of taxation of the people of the colonies resided in their colonial legislatures, where representation of them only existed; and that the people were entitled to be secure in their persons, property, and privileges, and that they could not lawfully be disturbed or affected in the enjoyment of either, without due process of law, and the judgment of their peers. But we need not pursue our researches on this point, for the best evidence that can be produced of the deep and universal sense of the value of our natural rights, and of the energy of the principles of the common law, are the memories of the spirit which pervaded and animated every part of our country, after the peace of 1763, when the same parent power which had nourished and protected us, attempted to abridge our immunities, and retard the progress of our rising greatness.

The house of representatives in Massachusetts, the house of assembly in New York, and the house of burgesses in Virginia, took an early and distinguished part, upon the first promulgation of English measures of taxation, in the assertion of their rights as freeborn English subjects. The claim to common law rights soon became a topic of universal concern and national vindication. In October, 1765, a convention of delegates from nine colonies assembled in New York, and made and published a declaration of rights, in which they insisted that the people of the colonies were entitled to all the inherent rights and liberties of English subjects, of which the most essential were, the exclusive power to tax themselves, and the privilege of trial by jury. The sense of America was, however, more fully ascertained, and more explicitly and solemnly promulgated, in the memorable declaration of rights of the first continental congress, in October, 1774, and which was a representation of all the colonies except Georgia. That declaration contained the assertion of several great and fundamental principles of American liberty, and it constituted the basis of those subsequent bills of rights, which, under various modifications, pervaded all our constitutional charters. It was declared, "that the inhabitants of the English colonies in North America, by the immutable laws of nature, the principles of the English constitution, and their several charters or compacts, were entitled to life, liberty, and property; and that they had never ceded to any sovereign power whatever, a right to dispose of either, without their consent; that their ancestors, who first settled the colonies, were, at the time of their emigration from the mother country, entitled to all the rights, liberties, and immunities of free and natural born subjects; and by such emigration they by no means forfeited, surrendered, or lost any of those rights;—that the foundation of English liberty, and of all free government, was the right of the people to participate in the legislative power, and they were entitled to a free and exclusive power of legislation, in all matters of taxation and internal policy, in their several provincial legislatures, where their right of representation could alone be preserved;—that the respective colonies were entitled to the common law of England, and more especially to the great and inestimable privilege of being tried by their peers of the vicinage according to the course of that law; that they were entitled to the benefit of such of the English statutes as existed at the time of their colonization, and which they had by experience found to be applicable to their several local and other circumstances; that they were likewise entitled to all the immunities and privileges granted and confirmed to them by royal charters, or secured by their several codes of provincial laws.

Upon the formation of the several state constitutions, after the colonies had become independent states, it was in most instances thought proper to collect, digest, and declare, in a precise and definite manner, and in the shape of abstract propositions and elementary maxims, the most essential articles appertaining to civil liberty and the natural rights of mankind.

The precedent for these declaratory bills of rights was to be found, not only in the colonial annals to which I have alluded, but in the practice of the English nation, who had frequently been obliged to recover, by intrepid councils, or by force of arms, and then to proclaim, by the most solemn and positive enactments, their indefeasible rights as a barrier against the tyranny of the executive power. The establishment of magna charta, and its generous provision for all classes of freemen against the complicated oppressions of the feudal system; the petition of right, early in the reign of Charles I, asserting by statute the rights of the nation as contained in their ancient laws, and especially in "the great character of the liberties of England;" and the bill of rights at the revolution, in 1688, are illustrious examples of the intelligence and spirit of the English nation, and they form distinguished eras in their constitutional history. But the necessity, in our representative republics, of these declaratory codes, has been frequently questioned, inasmuch as the government, in all its parts, is the creature of the people, and every department of it is filled by their agents, duly chosen or appointed, according to their will, and made responsible for maladministration. It may be observed, on the one hand, that no gross violation of those absolute private rights, which are clearly understood and settled by the common reason of mankind, is to be apprehended in the ordinary course of public affairs; and as to extraordinary instances of faction and turbulence, and the corruption and violence which they necessarily engender, no parchment checks can be relied on as affording, under such circumstances, any effectual protection to public liberty. When the spirit of liberty has fled, and truth and justice are disregarded, private rights can easily be sacrificed under the forms of law. On the other hand, there is weight due to the consideration, that a bill of rights is of real efficacy in controlling the excesses of party spirit. It serves to guide and enlighten public opinion, and to render it more quick to detect, and more resolute to resist, attempts to disturb private right. It requires more than ordinary hardiness and audacity of character, to trample down principles which our ancestors cultivated with reverence; which we imbibed in our early education; which recommend themselves to the judgment of the world by their truth and simplicity; and which are constantly placed before the eyes of the people, accompanied with the imposing force and solemnity of a constitutional sanction. Bills of rights are part of the muniments of freemen, showing their title to protection, and they become of increased value when placed under the protection of an independent judiciary, instituted as the appropriate guardian of private right. Care, however, is to be taken in the digest of these declaratory provisions, to confine the manual to a few plain and unexceptionable principles. We weaken greatly the force of them, if we encumber the constitution, and perhaps embarrass the future operations and more enlarged experience of the legislature, with a catalogue of ethical and political aphorisms, which, in some instances, may reasonably be questioned, and in others justly condemned. [End quoting.]

And now, let us shift gears a bit and return to our earlier discussion of the Bar Association, and specifically, the California Bar Association.

After a recent telephone conversation with California Senator Quentin L. Kopp, he was kind enough to share one of his presentations. Senator Kopp's efforts resulted in the successful passage of (California) Senate Bill No. 60, which requires a vote by all members of the Bar Association (this year) inquiring of them whether they believe membership into the Bar should be voluntary. The Bar Board of Governors are required, under this bill, to report the results of the plebiscite to the Supreme Court, Governor, and Legislature by July 1, 1996. As you probably remember, under California's State Constitution, membership into the state Bar Association is mandatory for anyone practicing law within the state. Let's take a few moments and see what Senator Kopp has to say. [Quoting:]

CALIFORNIA'S BAR ASSOCIATION

Why A Voluntary State Bar Association Serves Almost Everyone's Interest

It's about time lawyers were afforded the opportunity to decide whether or not they must belong to a closed shop. The question presented by the forthcoming plebiscite of some 140,000 active members of the State Bar of California.

Since I'm an author of SB 60, readers should know I was admitted to practice and, thus, rendered a mandatory member of the State Bar in January 1954, while still in the United States Air Force. I practiced from 1956 until 1959 with Pillsbury Madison & Sutro in San Francisco. Since April 1, 1959, I've practiced in my own law office, usually with a partner and associate. I started paying office rent at $65 per month in 1959 in San Francisco. State Bar dues were $25 per year. Today I pay considerably more rent, but I also pay $468 for compulsory membership in the State Bar.

I'm a past President of the Barristers' Club of San Francisco, past President of the California Young Lawyers Association, a one-time member of the Bar Association of San Francisco board of directors, a past member of the American Bar Association House of Delegates and the promulgator of an annual Continuing Education of the Bar credit course at the State Bar convention, entitled "How To Make It In The Practice Of Law". I like membership in the State Bar. At my panel (and in other forums) I entreat lawyers to participate in affairs of the organized bar. Lawyers comprise the most exciting segment of society. I enjoy their company. The organized bar offers not only the pleasure of their company, but also large scale educational, training and intellectual opportunities. I belong even to a repugnantly liberal Bar Association of San Francisco whose policies often agitate me. I could quit, but I don't—because it's part of my professional life.

Having (I hope) established organized bar credentials, I now declare my independence and allegiance to abolition of the closed shop. For those who [] it, mandatory membership may be invigorating. (It's not hyperbolic to characterize mandatory membership like a closed union shop in other occupations.) For many other California lawyers, however, it's dispiriting, particularly for a profession of individuals, who invariably advocate individual rights. They can't practice what they preach to judges and juries. They can't make individual decisions for themselves about membership in an organization which, increasingly, despite modern communication, seems more distant and irrelevant to its conscripted members.

The debate began even before 1927, the year the Legislature enacted the oddly called "Self-Governing Bar Bill", Business and Professions Code, Section 6000 et. seq. Our association of lawyers (the "California State Bar Association") began with a meeting at the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce on July 11, 1889. The initiation fee was $5, dues were $10 per annum. Beginning in 1923, the statewide voluntary association promoted the notion of a "self-governing bar". In 1926, a special committee reported: "Our profession was one of the first to realize that substantial and lasting progress cannot be brought about by punitive measures alone...the real purpose of this meeting is to secure a speedy and efficient administration of justice and to that end raise the standards of both the bench and bar, and simplify and make modern and efficient the methods by which the business of the courts is conducted." Has the 1927 bar unification enlisted the entire profession in improving the administration of justice, as such report propagates? It has not. Instead, we now pay tribute to an organization with an annual budget of approximately $68,000,000 [68 million], caused by the highest annual dues to any bar organization in the country.

Before 1927, lawyers were admitted to practice and disciplined by the California Supreme Court, acting upon recommendation of the various local bar associations. Do many lawyers today understand that the State Bar is not the repository of such power, that the California Supreme Court still possesses ultimate jurisdiction over admission to, and termination of, practice privileges? The Court merely delegated much of that responsibility, particularly admission to practice, to the State Bar.

Can anyone reasonably deny that the reputation of lawyers before 1927 in California was at least as pristine as now? As stated in the 1992 "Minority Position Re: Bar Structure" of the so-called "State Bar Futures Commission", the present structure, while designed to serve the public interest and the legal profession, "has served neither well...and the result has been damaging to the public interest and to both the reputation and the interest of California lawyers." The public distrusts "the present disciplinary system administered by the State Bar" and "that distrust, if not eliminated, will continue to erode public confidence in our legal system." Moreover, as the same report informs us, "there is widespread dissatisfaction with, and opposition to, the mandatory state bar..." among California attorneys, because:

- * "Bar dues are too high because (a) the Bar has become a bloated, inefficient bureaucracy, and (b) the Bar spends money on activities most members do not either need or support;
- * The Bar is unresponsive to its members' concerns and often treats its members in a high-handed manner.

* The Bar unfairly and disproportionately prosecutes attorneys practicing law alone or in small firms.

* The Bar does not provide satisfactory value to its members.

* The Bar is politically shackled and cannot speak out forcefully on some issues important to its members; and when it does speak out, the Bar often takes a position contrary to the beliefs of its members.

* The Bar's professional staff, not the Bar's members or even the Bar's board of governors, directly or indirectly sets the priorities for the Bar and determines what is accomplished."

For those who raise the specter of life without mandatory membership as tantamount to "deregulation" of California lawyers, is it apostasy to remind them that other states with numerous lawyers utilize voluntariness, rather than ukase, as the regulatory mode? Illinois operates a Registration and Discipline Committee as an arm of the Illinois Supreme Court to investigate, prosecute and adjudicate complaints of attorney misconduct. Lawyers pay nothing the first year, $70 for the second and third years and $140 annually thereafter to such committee. The fees haven't been raised since 1988. Illinois Bar Association dues range from $40 to $220 annually, depending upon the number of years of practice. The association provides a monthly magazine, a newsletter, counseling on unethical issues, lectures on legal issues, placement on the association's attorney referral listing and legislative advocacy in behalf of the members.

A vexatious State Bar problem is continuing dispute over that amount of annual dues attributable to political and ideological activities [See Keller v. State Bar of California (1990) 496 U.S.1]. Because of its mandatoriness, the State Bar is still subjected to litigation by critics who invoke Keller (See, e.g., Brosterhaus v. State Bar of California (1994) 29 Cal ap 4 963, petition for review granted by California Supreme Court, February 23, 1995). A voluntary association could lobby with impunity; abolishing compulsory membership eliminates not only litigation, but the ill-will of numerous lawyers towards the State Bar. The statutory and regulatory requirements respecting lawyers (admission, discipline, continuing education, lawyers' trust funds) would not end; as in 18 other states, an office of the Judicial Council or the California Supreme Court itself could execute those duties.

As the "Minority Position Re: Bar Structure" report observes, a voluntary bar "would not suffer from the aforementioned restrictions imposed by the Legislature and Keller and the concomitant drain on the Bar's energy and resources...a voluntary Bar would have to be responsive to its members and give the members true value for their dues and their support. An example of such a large, voluntary association is the American Bar Association. That which is virtuous and worthy of preservation in the present mandatory State Bar will presumably be found to be virtuous and preserved in a voluntary Bar." Approximately 75 percent of present State Bar members belong to a voluntary local Bar association. Why wouldn't such lawyers join a voluntary statewide Bar association? I would. Additionally, the 17 existing sections of the State Bar, comprising approximately 50,000 California lawyers, would complement the voluntary statewide association. Advantages to such structure include "freedom from Keller restrictions and sometimes competing interests of the board [of governors]".

SB 60's genesis was a recommendation by United States Court of Appeals Judge Arthur Alarcon that annual dues be reduced $78. The larger question is democracy for State Bar members. It's odd that the State Bar opposes a plebiscite. Perhaps the best advertising for a "yes" vote on the plebiscite was President Jim Towery's statement in the August California Bar Journal, declaring that he didn't "see any groundswell of request from our rank-and-file that the State Bar go through an extraordinary effort to conduct a plebiscite about its own existence." That generated more letters to me than any event in the lengthy effort to enact SB 60. In the words of the "Minority Position Re: Bar Structure", "...because of the present State Bar's size and vested interest in the status quo, the present State Bar is incapable of substantively reforming itself." Bold action is needed from without. Voting "yes" on the plebiscite will compel that bold action, for the benefit of the public and the profession. State Senator Quentin L. Kopp of the San Francisco Bar. [End quoting.] As mentioned previously, the Bill passed and the plebiscite, or vote by state Bar members, will take place concerning a voluntary Bar.

JUDGES' NEW CODE OF ETHICS

In the January 31, 1996 edition of Sacramento, California's The Daily Recorder, syndicated columnist Thomas D. Elias writes an article titled, "Judges' New Code of Ethics: Are They Serious?" [Quoting:]

California judges have a freshly toughened code of ethics this year, one demanded by voters dissatisfied with decades of judicial self-regulation. The new code is the direct result of the 1994 Proposition 190, which required the state Supreme Court to adopt mandatory rules for judges at all levels.

The question: Do the judges and the Supreme Court justices really intend to enforce and live by their high-sounding new rules?

Besides the usual rules requiring them to recuse themselves when cases present obvious conflicts of interest, judges are no longer allowed to accept gifts from lawyers or others likely to appear before them. They are required to make broad disclosures of all their friendships with attorneys and others involved in cases they might hear. And they are forbidden to join clubs that discriminate on the basis of race, gender and religion. The ban on memberships in organizations that discriminate specifically exempts the Boy Scouts of America and other non-profit youth, religious and military groups that discriminate against homosexuals.

These rules sound like a great improvement over a system that has long allowed judges to preside over cases involving their best friends and classmates, without having to disclose those relationships.

But almost as soon as it issued the new code, the Supreme Court provided cause for questioning whether it will be taken seriously.

That question arose when the justices unanimously revoked a public censure that had been imposed on a Santa Barbara Superior Court judge by the state Commission on Judicial Performance. Short of removal from the bench, censure is the strongest measure that can be taken against a sitting judge.

Judge Bruce W. Dodds had gotten the severe rebuke because of charges that he impeded investigation of another Santa Barbara judge who deflated the tire of a van parked in his courthouse slot in April 1993. Dodds, who witnessed the vandalism, did nothing to stop his colleague and did not report having seen the act in progress even after he learned that his colleague had denied it. The van belonged to a disabled person.

Not only did Dodds at first refuse to discuss the incident with a detective, but he suggested to his court staff members that they also clam up. He told what he saw only after his colleague confessed and was publicly reproved by the judicial watchdog commission.

Dodds was also accused of making an anti-Semitic remark to visitors in his chambers in 1987 after a contentious court session involving two Jewish lawyers.

The Supreme Court said it could not punish Dodds for that comment because the statute of limitations on it had expired. And the justices said he did not deserve to be censured for failing to cooperate initially in the

CONTACT: The Phoenix Project

CONTACT is a unique and inspired newspaper for concerned citizens everywhere, though it particularly focuses on the United States because of this country's special mission in the affairs of the world. That is, "As goes the United States, so goes the world."

CONTACT is a vehicle for Commander Gyeorgos Ceres Hatonn's most recent writings on important current affairs, plus those from other enlightening sources, on matters critical to a responsible and informed public at this time of planetary transition and final days of battle between the Forces of Light and the "Evil Empire" forces of darkness.

CONTACT exists to counteract the manipulating lies and clever half-truths put out (on purpose) by the regular print and broadcast media prostitutes of the Satan Elite controllers—parasites who are in the process of economically, physically, and spiritually collapsing this once great country (and actually the entire planet) down to a slave-state level of existence under their diabolical control plan called The New World Order.

This newspaper, CONTACT, began life on March 30, 1993, risen, like the mythical bird, with great determination "up from the ashes" of its internationally acclaimed predecessor called THE PHOENIX LIBERATOR.

THE PHOENIX LIBERATOR, in turn, began life in mid-October of 1991, having evolved from an earlier newsletter called the PHOENIX JOURNAL EXPRESS, which itself came into existence as a faster way to get THE TRUTH out to you readers than was possible with the more substantial "book" format of the PHOENIX JOURNALS. Much incredible ground has been covered so far in that mission.

While the PHOENIX LIBERATOR's motto reminded all that "The Truth Will Set You Free", the CONTACT's motto, displayed prominently in the masthead, takes that thought another important step forward and proclaims: "Ye Shall Know The Truth And The Truth Shall Make You Mad!"

The "Phoenix Project" is about those preparations needed—at body, mind and soul levels—to both understand and survive the great healing changes which are beginning to energize this beautiful little planet, now so frazzled and tortured from abuses of all kinds. We look forward, with great expectations, to the *CONTACT*ing with all of you—a coming together that is rapidly taking place as the entire Phoenix Project "ground crew" continues to connect, solidify, and gain strength through becoming informed of THE TRUTH. Indeed, welcome aboard, friends!

Those rulings, ironically, came on the very same day the court issued its new code of ethics. The effect of the actions was essentially to tell judges that they can't join organizations that discriminate against Jews and other minorities, but that their private words won't be punished unless they explicitly violate the letter of some law.

The justices also seemed to indicate that all the good words in the code about avoiding conflicts of interest may not mean much in real life. For if Dodds couldn't even be censured when he refused to cooperate in the investigation of a friend and colleague whose vandalism he had witnessed, why would anyone believe any judges will ever be penalized for failing to disclose friendships or other links to attorneys practicing before them?

Judicial codes of ethics exist less to actually police judges than to instill faith in the public that judges are honest beyond corruptibility. If the Supreme Court looks for ways to exempt judges from its new code—and that's what it seemed to do in the Dodds case—how long will it take public and lawyers to realize that judges are not serious about changing the unspoken rules of their profession. [End quoting.]

In Part IV of this series, appearing in the February 13 (Vol. 12, #3) edition of CONTACT, we reviewed the American Bar Association's old code of ethics for lawyers, the Code of Professional Responsibility. Now let's take a look at portions from the current American Bar Association [ABA] Code, which is called Model Rules of Professional Conduct. For those of you who still believe that everything you tell your attorney falls under "attorney-client privilege" and is, therefore, totally confidential—read on. [Quoting:]

ABA—MODEL RULES OF PROFESSIONAL CONDUCT

Rule 1.6 Confidentiality Of Information

(A) A lawyer shall not reveal information relating to representation of a client unless the client consents after consultation, except for disclosures that are impliedly authorized in order to carry out the representation, and except as stated in paragraph (B).

(B) A lawyer may reveal such information to the extent the lawyer reasonably believes necessary:

(1) to prevent the client from committing a criminal act that the lawyer believes is likely to result in imminent death or substantial bodily harm; or

(2) to establish a claim or defense on behalf of the lawyer in a controversy between the lawyer and client, to establish a defense to a criminal charge or civil claim against the lawyer based upon conduct in which the client was involved, or to respond to allegations in any proceeding concerning the lawyer's representation of the client.

[Still quoting:]

Comment

[1] The lawyer is part of a judicial system charged with upholding the law. One of the lawyer's functions is to advise clients so that they avoid any violation of the law in the proper exercise of their rights.

[2] The observance of the ethical obligation of a lawyer to hold inviolate confidential information of the client not only facilitates the full development of facts essential to proper representation of the client but also encourages people to seek early legal assistance.

[3] Almost without exception, clients come to lawyers in order to determine what their rights are and what is, in the maze of laws and regulations, deemed to be legal and correct. The common law recognizes that the client's confidences must be protected from disclosure. Based upon experience, lawyers know that almost all clients follow the advice given, and the law is upheld.

[4] A fundamental principle in the client-lawyer relationship is that the lawyer maintain confidentiality of information relating to the representation. The client is thereby encouraged to communicate fully and frankly with the lawyer even as to embarrassing or legally damaging subject matter.

[5] The principle of confidentiality is given effect in two related bodies of law, the attorney-client privilege (which includes the work product doctrine) in the law of evidence and the rule of confidentiality established in professional ethics. The attorney-client privilege applies in judicial and other proceedings in which a lawyer may be called as a witness or otherwise required to produce evidence concerning a client. The rule of client-lawyer confidentiality applies in situations other than those where evidence is sought from the lawyer through compulsion of law. The confidentiality rule applies not merely to matters communicated in confidence by the client but also to all information relating to the presentation, whatever its source. A lawyer may not disclose such information except as authorized or required by the Rules of Professional Conduct or other law. See also Scope.

[6] The requirement of maintaining confidentiality of information relating to representation applies to government lawyers who may disagree with the policy goals that their representation is designed to advance.

Authorized Disclosure

[7] A lawyer is impliedly authorized to make disclosures about a client when appropriate in carrying out the representation, except to the extent that the client's instructions or special circumstances limit that authority. In litigation, for example, a lawyer may disclose information by admitting a fact that cannot properly be disputed, or in negotiation by making a disclosure that facilitates a satisfactory conclusion.

[8] Lawyers in a firm may, in the course of the firm's practice, disclose to each other information relating to a client of the firm, unless the client has instructed that particular information be confined to specified lawyers.

Disclosure Adverse To Client

[9] The confidentiality rule is subject to limited exceptions. In becoming privy to information about a client, a lawyer may foresee that the client intends serious harm to another person. However, to the extent a lawyer is required or permitted to disclose a client's purposes, the client will be inhibited from revealing facts which would enable the lawyer to counsel against a wrongful course of action. The public is better protected if full and open communication by the client is encouraged than if it is inhibited.

[10] Several situations must be distinguished.

[11] First, the lawyer may not counsel or assist a client in conduct that is criminal or fraudulent. See Rule 1.2(B). Similarly, a lawyer has a duty under Rule 3.3(A)(4) not to use false evidence. This duty is essentially a special instance of the duty prescribed in Rule 1.2(B) to avoid assisting a client in criminal or fraudulent conduct.

[12] Second, the lawyer may have been innocently involved in past conduct by the client that was criminal or fraudulent. In such a situation the lawyer has not violated Rule 1.2(B), because to "counsel or assist" criminal or fraudulent conduct requires knowing that the conduct is of that character.

[13] Third, the lawyer may learn that a client intends prospective conduct that is criminal and likely to result in imminent death or substantial bodily harm. As stated in paragraph (B)(1), the lawyer has professional discretion to reveal information in order to prevent such consequences. The lawyer may make a disclosure in order to prevent homicide or serious bodily injury which the lawyer reasonably believes is intended by a client. It is very difficult for a lawyer to "know" when such a heinous purpose will actually be carried out, for the client may have a change of mind.

[14] The lawyer's exercise of discretion requires consideration of such factors as the nature of the lawyer's relationship with the client and with those who might be injured by the client, the lawyer's own involvement in the transaction and factors that may extenuate the conduct in question. Where practical, the lawyer should seek to persuade the client to take suitable action. In any case, a disclosure adverse to the client's interest should be no greater than the lawyer reasonably believes necessary to the purpose. A lawyer's decision not to take preventive action permitted by paragraph (B)(1) does not violate this Rule.

[Still quoting:]

Rule 1.7 Conflict Of Interest: General Rule

(A) A lawyer shall not represent a client if the representation of that client will be directly adverse to another client, unless:

(1) the lawyer reasonably believes the representation will not adversely affect the relationship with the other client; and

(2) each client consents after consultation.

(B) A lawyer shall not represent a client if the representation of that client may be materially limited by the lawyer's responsibilities to another client or to a third person, or by the lawyer's own interests, unless:

(1) the lawyer reasonably believes the representation will not be adversely affected; and

(2) the client consents after consultation. When representation of multiple clients in a single matter is undertaken, the consultation shall include explanation of the implications of the common representation and the advantages and risks involved.

[Still quoting:]

Comment: Loyalty To A Client

[1] Loyalty is an essential element in the lawyer's relationship to a client. An impermissible conflict of interest may exist before representation is undertaken, in which event the representation should be declined. The lawyer should adopt reasonable procedures, appropriate for the size and type of firm and practice, to determine in both litigation and non-litigation matters the parties and issues involved and to determine whether there are actual or potential conflicts of interest.

[2] If such a conflict arises after representation has been undertaken, the lawyer should withdraw from the representation. See Rule 1.16. Where more than one client is involved and the lawyer withdraws because a conflict arises after representation, whether the lawyer may continue to represent any of the clients is determined by Rule 1.9. See also Rule 2.2(C). As to whether a client-lawyer relationship exists or, having once been established, is continuing, see Comment to Rule 1.3 and Scope.

[3] As a general proposition, loyalty to a client prohibits undertaking representation directly adverse to that client without that client's consent. Paragraph (A) expresses that general rule. Thus, a lawyer ordinarily may not act as advocate against a person the lawyer represents in some other matter, even if it is wholly unrelated. On the other hand, simultaneous representation in unrelated matters of clients whose interests are only generally adverse, such as competing economic enterprises, does not require consent of the respective clients. Paragraph (A) applies only when the representation of one client would be directly adverse to the other.

[4] Loyalty to a client is also impaired when a lawyer cannot consider, recommend or carry out an appropriate course of action for the client because of the lawyer's other responsibilities or interests. The conflict in effect forecloses alternatives that would otherwise be available to the client. Paragraph (B) addresses such situations. A possible conflict does not itself preclude the representation. The critical questions are the likelihood that a conflict will eventuate and, if it does, whether it will materially interfere with the lawyer's independent professional judgment in considering alternatives or foreclosure courses of action that reasonably should be pursued on behalf of the client. Consideration should be given to whether the client wishes to accommodate the other interest involved.

[Still quoting the ABA's Rules:]

Rule 1.8 Conflict Of Interest: Prohibited Transactions

(A) A lawyer shall not enter into a business transaction with a client or knowingly acquire an ownership, possessory, security or other pecuniary interest adverse to a client unless:

(1) the transaction and terms on which the lawyer acquires the interest are fair and reasonable to the client and are fully disclosed and transmitted in writing to the client in a manner which can be reasonably understood by the client;

(2) the client is given a reasonable opportunity to seek the advice of independent counsel in the transaction; and

(3) the client consents in writing thereto.

(B) A lawyer shall not use information relating to representation of a client to the disadvantage of the client unless the client consents after consultation, except as permitted or required by Rule 1.6 or Rule 3.3.

(C) A lawyer shall not prepare an instrument giving the lawyer or a person related to the lawyer as parent, child, sibling, or spouse any substantial gift from a client, including a testamentary gift, except where the client is related to the donee.

(D) Prior to the conclusion of representation of a client, a lawyer shall not make or negotiate an agreement giving the lawyer literary or media rights to a portrayal or account based in substantial part on information relating to the representation.

(E) A lawyer shall not provide financial assistance to a client in connection with pending or contemplated litigation, except that:

(1) a lawyer may advance court costs and expenses of litigation, the repayment of which may be contingent on the outcome of the matter; and

(2) a lawyer representing an indigent client may pay court costs and expenses of litigation on behalf of the client.

(F) A lawyer shall not accept compensation for representing a client from one other than the client unless:

(1) the client consents after consultation;

(2) there is no interference with the lawyer's independence of professional judgment or with the client-lawyer relationship; and

(3) information relating to representation of a client is protected as required by Rule 1.6.

(G) A lawyer who represents two or more clients shall not participate in making an aggregate settlement of the claims of or against the clients, or in a criminal case an aggregated agreement as to guilty or nolo contendere pleas, unless each client consents after consultation, including disclosure of the existence and nature of all the claims or pleas involved and of the participation of each person in the settlement.

(H) A lawyer shall not make an agreement prospectively limiting the lawyer's liability to a client for malpractice unless permitted by law and the client is independently represented in making the agreement, or settle a claim for such liability with an unrepresented client or former client without first advising that person in writing that independent representation is appropriate in connection therewith.

(I) A lawyer related to another lawyer as parent, child, sibling or spouse shall not represent a client in a representation directly adverse to a person whom the lawyers knows is represented by the other lawyer except upon consent by the client after consultation regarding the relationship.

(J) A lawyer shall not acquire a proprietary interest in the cause of action or subject matter of litigation the lawyer is conducting for a client, except that the lawyer may:

(1) acquire a lien granted by law to secure the lawyer's fee or expenses; and

(2) contract with a client for a reasonable contingent fee in a civil case. [End quoting.]

CALIFORNIA'S JUDICIAL REFORM ACT OF 1996

A Statewide Proposition Amendment to the California Constitution
The climate of judicial frustration among many of California's population has reached such proportions that a legislative proposition is being put forth called The Judicial Reform Act Of 1996. Without endorsing OR criticizing the proposition, let's see what it has to say. [Quoting:]

The Problem

"Confidence in Court System Dips", reads a headline in the 12/11/92 LOS ANGELES TIMES. "Nearly half of the Californians questioned in a far-ranging new poll said they have less confidence in the court system...52% had a poor or only fair overall opinion of the state judiciary. The survey was released by the [Judicial] council, the policy-making arm of the judiciary, at a symposium on the future of the California courts. The results of the questioning caused concern among officials. "When 52% of Californians do not think highly of the courts, that tells me we have to come up with [a] program to give people a better understanding of the system," said Robert R. Dockson, chairman emeritus of CalFed and Chairman of the Commission on the Future of the Courts."

This public negative perception of our judiciary has continually sunk to an all-time low under the current Commission on Judicial Performance which hears complaints against judges. We are told in a 5/18/94 LOS ANGELES TIMES article, "The commission...operates largely in secret...[and that t]he agency's annual report indicates that out of the more than 900 complaints it receives annually, no more than 10 cases are ever taken to the formal hearing stage." A 12/17/93 LOS ANGELES DAILY JOURNAL article states, "The commission's mandate is to insure public confidence in the courts. Everyone agrees that this is a vitally important mission. The commission has dismally failed to carry out that mission." Statistics show complaints to the Commission have steadily increased in the past thirteen years by an alarming 365%.

Truly, we are in an epidemic of judicial corruption and misconduct. "Judges Flout Law" reads one headline, "Senator Wants To Crack Down On Courts", reads another. "State Sen. Charles Calderon believes the public's image of the courts must be improved."—SAN GABRIEL VALLEY NEWS, 5/6/94. "Our Legal System Is Out Of Control," said CURBB (Citizens United To Reform Bench & Bar), a citizens' rights group directed by attorneys. Yes, most everyone experienced with the courts has a similar story to tell. It is a cry for judicial accountability.

[Still quoting from Judicial Reform Act of 1996:]

The Proposition

(a) The People of the State of California find that the doctrine of judicial immunity, originally intended to protect judges from frivolous and harassing lawsuits, has been greatly abused and expanded in practice to extend to every kind of judicial misconduct; that such judicial misconduct is perceived to continue unabated without accountability. As a result, confidence in our judiciary has sunk to an all-time low. It is therefore our desire to build confidence in our judicial system by restoring a perception of justice and judicial accountability. This shall be known as The Judicial Reform Act of 1996.

(b) Notwithstanding common law or any other provision to the contrary, no immunities shall be extended to any member of the judiciary of this State except as is specifically set forth in this Act. For purposes of this Act, members of the judiciary shall include, but not be limited to, justices, judges, commissioners, judges pro tem, private judges and arbitrators, hereinafter referred to as "judges".

(c) Preserving the original intent of protecting judges from frivolous and harassing actions, no immunity shielding a judge shall be construed to extend to any clear violation of the Constitutions of the United States or California, deliberate violation of law, fraud, conspiracy, intentional violation of due process of law, deliberate disregard of material facts, judicial acts without jurisdiction, and blocking (this includes unreasonable delay) of a lawful conclusion of a case. For purposes of this Act, "blocking" shall mean any act or series of acts that impedes the lawful conclusion of a case.

(d) There are hereby created within this State three twenty-five member Special Grand Juries within state-wide jurisdiction having power to judge both law and fact. As used in this Act, "Juror" shall mean a Special Grand Juror. Their sole responsibility shall be to determine, on an objective standard, whether a civil suit against a judge would be frivolous and harassing, or fall within the exclusions of immunity as set forth herein, and whether there is the appearance of criminal conduct by the judge complained of. The Special Grand Juries shall choose as many special non-government advisors as necessary to serve no more than one year, after which term said counsel shall be ineligible.

(e) Within ninety days following enactment of this Act, the Legislature shall establish a "seat" or principal base for each Special Grand Jury, such seats to be reasonably evenly distributed geographically throughout the State.

(f) Each Special Grand Jury shall immediately assign a docket number to each complaint brought before it, unless such case is transferred to another Special Grand Jury to achieve caseload balance. A transfer shall not prejudice a docketing deadline. The Special Grand Jury first docketing a complaint shall have sole jurisdiction of the case. No complaint shall be considered by any Special Grand Jury unless the complainant shall have first attempted to exhaust all judicial remedies available in this State within the immediately preceding six-month period. Such six-month period, however, shall not apply in cases of blocking of a lawful conclusion, which provision is intended to be applied remedially. Should the complainant opt to proceed to the United States Supreme Court, such six-month period shall commence upon the disposition of that court.

(g) The Jurors shall serve without compulsion and shall be drawn by public lot by the Secretary of State from the broadest base of available Citizens of this State of the age of eighteen years and over, excluding elected and appointed officials, prosecutors, members of the State Bar, judges, and judicial and law enforcement personnel, without other exclusion except previous adjudication of mental incapacity, imprisonment, or parole from a conviction of a felonious violent crime against person(s). Excluding the establishment of the initial Special Grand Juries, each Juror shall serve one year. No Juror shall serve more than once in five years. On the first day of each month, two persons shall be rotated off each Special Grand Jury and new Citizens' names drawn, except in January it shall be three. Vacancies shall be filled on the first of the following month in addition to the Jurors regularly rotated, and the Juror chosen to fill a vacancy shall complete only the remainder of the term of the Juror replaced. A simple majority shall determine any matter. Special Grand Jury files shall always remain public record. Each Juror shall receive a salary commensurate to a Superior Court judge prorated according to the number of days actually in session. In addition, each Special Grand Jury shall have an annual operational budget commensurate to the Commission on Judicial Performance, or its equivalent, or a sum equal to the combined salaries of twenty-five Jurors serving full time, whichever is highest. Should the three Special Grand Juries concur that additional interim operational funds are required for their effectiveness, they may present their agreed sum specific to the California Legislature, which shall give high priority to their instant requisition.

(h) The Special Grand Jury shall serve a copy of the complaint upon the judge with notice to the complainant. The judge shall have twenty days to serve and file an answer. The complainant shall have a further ten days, excluding weekends and holidays, to reply to the judge's answer. The Special Grand Jury shall have power to subpoena witnesses, documents, and other tangible evidence, and to examine witnesses under oath. Each Special Grand Jury shall determine the causes properly before it with their reasoned findings in writing within 120 calendar days, serving on all parties their decision on whether immunity shall be barred as a defense to any civil action that may thereafter be pursued against the judge. A rehearing may be requested within fifteen days by service upon the other side, with fifteen days by service upon the other side, with fifteen days to reply thereto. Thereafter, the Special Grand Jury shall render final determination within twenty days. All allegations of the complaint shall be liberally construed in favor of the complainant. The Jurors shall keep in mind, in making their decisions, that they are entrusted by the people of this State with the duty of restoring a perception of justice and accountability of the judiciary, and are not to be swayed by artful presentation by the judge. They shall avoid all influence by judicial and government entities. The statute of limitations on any action involving the complainant to the Special Grand Jury against a State judge shall not commence until the rendering of their final decision.

(i) Whenever any judge shall have received three strikes, a strike being an adverse immunity decision, the judge shall be permanently removed from judicial office. Judicial retirement for such removed judge shall not exceed one-half of the benefits to which such person would have otherwise been entitled.

(j) Should the Special Grand Jury also find probable cause of criminal conduct on the part of any State judge against whom a complaint is docketed, it shall indict such judge except where double-jeopardy attaches. The Special Grand Jury shall, without voir dire, impanel twelve special trial jurors, plus alternates, which trial jurors shall be instructed that they have power to judge both law and fact. The Special Grand Jury shall also select a non-government special prosecutor and a judge with no more than four years on the bench from a county other than that of the defendant judge. The trial jury shall be selected from the same pool of jury candidates as any regular jury. The special prosecutor shall thereafter prosecute the cause to conclusion, having all the powers of any other prosecutor within this State. Upon conviction, the special trial jury shall have exclusive power of sentencing (limited to incarceration, fines and/or community service), which shall be derived by average of the sentences of the trial jurors.

[Portions of this document along the outer margin are cut off on my copy. I will indicate those by ***.]

(k) No judge indicted for criminal conduct [] sued civilly by a complainant pursuant to this [] shall be defended at public expense or by an elected or appointed public counsel.

(l) No person exercising strict enforcement [] the findings of a Special Grand Jury shall be held liable civilly, criminally, or in contempt.

(m) Preeminence shall be given to this Act [] any case of conflicts of statute, law, or constitutional provision, and the foreperson of each Special Grand Jury shall read, or cause to be read, this [] bi-annually to the respective Jurors during the final business week of the months of January and July.

(n) The provisions and procedures herein [] in addition to other redress that may exist and [] not exclusive.

(o) Should the whole or any part of this proposition come under constitutional challenge, such challenge shall not be adjudicated by any judicial officer potentially affected by the outcome. Should any part of this proposition be found unconstitutional, the remainder shall remain in full force and effect as though no challenge thereto existed. (The Judicial Reform Act of 1996—Tel. 818-386-5804.) [End quoting.]

PARALEGALS

In an article appearing in the March 1991 edition of ABA Journal, written by Deborah Chalfie, we read [quoting:]

Paralegals Should legal technicians be allowed to practice independently?

The debate to permit non-lawyers to provide legal services heated up in California last July with the release of a report by a bar association commission that recommended the licensing of legal technicians to assist in landlord-tenant disputes, simple divorces and bankruptcies.

More recently, legislation was introduced in the California Assembly that would permit paralegals to practice law independently in a broader range of areas and would require licensing only if irreparable harm would result from malpractice.

Sponsoring the bill is Help Abolish Legal Tyranny, a consumer rights organization headquartered in Washington, D.C. Deborah Chalfie, HALT's legislative director, argues here that the bill is a long-overdue remedy to the crisis in legal services.

Texas Bar Association President James N. Parson disagrees. He believes that allowing paralegals to practice independently ultimately shortchanges consumers.

[Still quoting:]

Yes: Consumer Power

Letting independent paralegals serve the public will greatly improve access to legal services.

Everyone—including the ABA—agrees there's a national crisis in access to legal services. Study after study shows that even middle-income consumers can't get affordable legal help. The problem is worse for the indigent: 80 percent of low-income people's legal needs go unmet because they can't afford lawyers. People face evictions, cut-offs in government benefits, consumer disputes, and child support problems without legal assistance. We now have a two-tiered system of justice, with the vast majority shut out.

It should be no surprise that this overwhelming, unmet need has spawned an "underground" independent paralegal industry. Despite a nationwide ban on unauthorized practice of law, more than 3,000 independent paralegals—2,000 in California—are already in business providing high-quality, low-cost legal help with numerous legal matters.

One study has estimated that consumers could save more than $1.3 billion annually by using paralegals for just four routine tasks—uncomplicated divorces, wills, bankruptcies and business incorporations. Besides improving access to justice, letting consumers get help from paralegals gives consumers the right to choose, just as they do for tax preparation, based on the service and expertise they need, want and can afford.

Many of the lawyers who claim that everyday legal matters are too complex for paralegals already delegate much of the work involved in divorces, probate, bankruptcies and public benefits cases to their paralegals and legal secretaries, with little to no supervision.

Almost No Complaints

Despite the bar's speculations about public harm, experience shows there is little evidence of it. The California Department of Consumer Affairs reports that, in the nearly 20 years paralegals have been in business there, complaints about them have been "almost nonexistent."

A California bar survey found 76 percent of pro se litigants who used an independent paralegal were satisfied and would use one again; only 64 percent of those who had used lawyers were satisfied. Stanford Law Professor Deborah Rhode's study found the same relative absence of consumer complaints nationwide: less than 2 percent of all unauthorized practice of law cases even alleged consumer harm.

Contrast these statistics with the nearly 100,000 complaints filed against lawyers in 1989. Obviously, there is no "public protection" guarantee provided by lawyers' exclusive license to practice law. Blanket prohibitions against "unauthorized practice" can and should be replaced by less restrictive, more effective means of protecting consumers—balancing the interest in affordable access with that of meaningful public protection.

Traditional solutions such as increasing funding to legal aid programs or increasing pro bono assistance can barely make a dent in meeting the poor's needs, let alone the needs of those with moderate incomes. Legal aid programs account for only one-third of the few cases in which low-income people actually get legal assistance.

Fewer than 20 percent of all attorneys participate in voluntary pro bono efforts, and the bar has repeatedly rejected mandatory pro bono. And, in the current economic climate, neither program is likely to see substantial increases in resources.

While the importance of these programs shouldn't be minimized, neither should their potential to solve the legal services crisis be overestimated.

No single reform is a panacea. But, "Boardwalk or nothing" is no longer an option; while lawyers play "monopoly", the public is left out of the game. [End quoting.]

And now for the other side of the coin, James N. Parson responds in the same edition of ABA Journal. [Quoting:]

No: Caveat Emptor

No final and comprehensive national or local solution has been found for the problem of providing legal services for the poor. One answer, born in frustration and naivete, has been proposed in California. Its effect will be to provide poor service to poor people. This solution authorizes the practice of law by a lesser qualified group whose lack of qualifications would ostensibly be overcome by zeal and dedication.

It's a kamikaze approach to a problem requiring, not ignorance and zeal, but legal expertise and governance. California may have tendered a proposal, but it needs to reprint—in large letters—the old maxim, "Buyer Beware."

The underlying question is whether society has a duty to ensure the competency of professional practitioners. It's fundamentally a matter of who's qualified, who cares, and who's watching.

One school of thought holds that if a person can cure cancer, whether a licensed physician or not, let him do it. But providers of professional services must be able to perform what they promise.

Professional services require more than an air of knowledge and ability—they require professional ability, grounded in education and steeped in competence.

California's response to the issue of education and competence is the requirement of a high school diploma or GED certificate. Issues of bankruptcy, family law, immigration, and wills and trust law require more than a GED certificate. We're not licensing bus drivers; we're attempting to solve, mediate and dispose of serious legal problems.

Just as allied health providers must be able to distinguish between a cold and pneumonia, proposed allied legal providers must be able to identify the nuances of marital property rights, debtor alternatives, and real estate titles. Even the most basic understanding of the legal issues cannot be founded upon a GED-certified mind.

[Still quoting:]

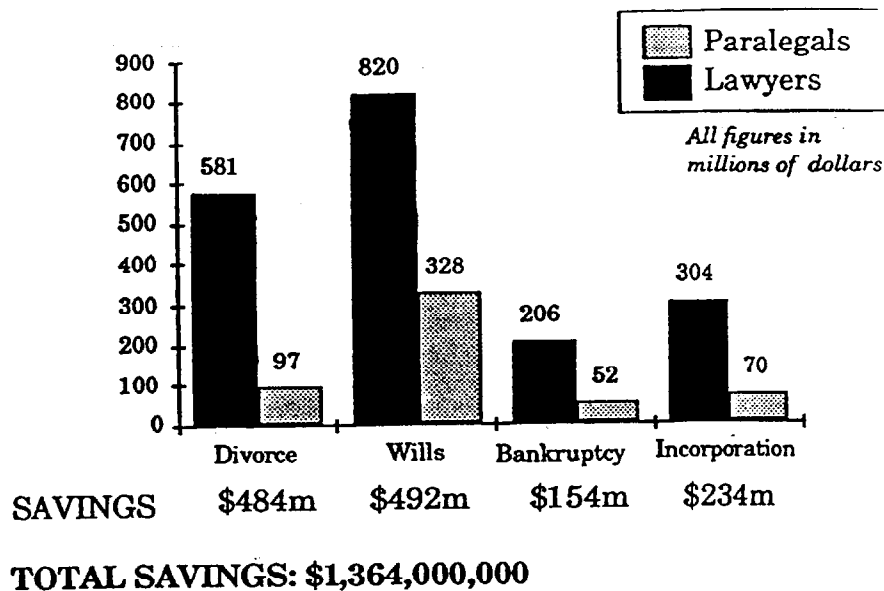

Questionable Competency

Qualifications and oversight of providers of legal services is not a new issue. Those outside the profession accuse us of exclusivity in our dedication to competence. They want in, even if they lack basic qualifications. Their proffered ticket for admission is cheaper legal services. This ignores the fact that issues of excellence, competence and oversight are not economic in nature.

Allowing non-lawyers to practice law, under the guise of limited authority, and then disciplining the providers under the legislative branch, destroys the

What Could We Save Using Paralegals?

This chart, based on conservative estimates, compares the prices for four common legal matters quoted by a nationally advertised legal clinic with those of typical independent paralegals: 775,000 divorces a year at $750 and $125 respectively; 4.1 million wills at $200 and $80; 412,000 bankruptcies at $500 and $125; 468,000 incorporations at $650 and $150.

constitutional concept of the separation of powers. The judicial branch has the authority to regulate the practice of law. Call it what you may, but these proposed providers of legal services will be practicing law.

HALT and California's proposal [remember this was published back in 1991] would transfer the disciplining of these practitioners of law to a consumer agency of the state, funded and regulated by the legislature. Expediency would rule; excellence and supervision would suffer.

Let's talk barratry [Webster's: 1. buying or selling of...civil positions. 2. habitual bringing about of quarrels or lawsuits.]. Once adopted, there would be established on every street corner an "independent paralegal". Free of the constraints of professionalism and effective discipline, each would be susceptible to becoming a free-lance runner for unethical lawyers. The lawyer could accomplish indirectly what he is prohibited from doing directly.

Lawyers in every state believe in the need for expanded legal services to the poor. Each is addressing the issue with success. State-funded IOLTA programs will this year collectively spend $142,581,898 for legal services to the poor. We need to re-double our efforts to address the legal needs of the poor. Poor legal services to poor people is not the answer. As Herbert wrote over three centuries ago, "Ill ware is never cheap." [End quoting.]

PERSECUTED PARALEGAL

In an article from the October-December 1994 edition of HALT's publication THE LEGAL REFORMER, we read [quoting:]

The following is an interview with Robin S. Smith, Director of the People's Paralegal Service, Inc. Ms. Smith has been charged with the unauthorized practice of law (UPL) by the Oregon State Bar.

HALT: What kind of services do you provide?

R.S.: We type legal documents and sell self-help law books. We cover areas such as divorce, wills, bankruptcies, living trusts, incorporation, and step-parent adoption.

HALT: We understand a UPL charge has been filed against you. Why do you think this happened after being in business so long?

R.S.: I don't really know why, at that particular moment, the Oregon State Bar decided to go ahead and sue me and my company, People's Paralegal Service, Inc. Really, no customer has ever filed a complaint with me or with the Attorney General's Office, or the State Bar. No customer has ever sued me. No one has ever been so dissatisfied with something that we couldn't resolve whatever was going on that they felt they had to take that step. Yet, the Bar, after seven years of my being in business and the two of us working together to a certain extent—I have testified in front of ABA hearings and Oregon State Bar hearings on the need of non-lawyers—sues me. We thought we were going in the direction of coming up with a joint proposal to take to the legislature and instead, BAM, here's this.

"Here at Pearlstine, Smith & Wilcox, we call it a court appearance, not a gig."

HALT: Did you find it difficult finding a lawyer to represent you?

R.S.: Yes, I spend a lot of time on the phone and came up with an attorney to represent me, but then I did some further digging into my professional liability insurance policy and discovered that it would cover my legal costs on this. They get to name the attorney. I have yet to meet him, but I think he's going to be fine. My insurance policy does say that they are not required to appeal, that it's up to them to decide, so at that point I may be on my own as far as legal costs go. Every paralegal ought to run out and get insurance, professional liability insurance.

HALT: What can you tell us about your defense strategy?

R.S.: It's hard to say because at this point literally all we've done is file an extension for another 30 days. I haven't even met with my attorney to discuss strategy. I believe that flat out what we're going to be doing is just denying the UPL charges. The selection of documents is where the UPL issue spins. One of the provisions of UPL in Oregon, is that it violates UPL to select the document or form for a customer. I maintain that I didn't select anything because in this particular situation I typed every document that there was for that particular case. We have a case here called Oregon State Bar v. Gilcrest from 1972. It decided that as long as you did not talk to people and all you did is sell them books and forms and type their papers for them, then you weren't practicing law. We do intend to address the issue of First Amendment rights. I have a constitutional right to free speech but the Oregon State Bar is trying to enjoin my right to free speech, by preventing me from sharing knowledge, information and forms that I have with people who don't have any other alternatives. Free speech is pretty absolute.

HALT: Do you have any advice for any other independent paralegals who might find themselves in a similar situation?

R.S.: It can happen to anybody. The most important thing people can do is organize in their state. Part of the reason that this happened when it did is really we haven't been very vocal in the last six months. The Task Force Hearings are over and the ABA hearings are over and so there really isn't anything going on at the moment. There is a lull in public support and opinion and money. Oregon State Bar took advantage of that lull. You can fight back on the basis of First Amendment Rights if you have the resources and energy to fight, which I do. I intend to fight this to the bitter end. [End quoting.]

Next week we will take a much closer look at Admiralty Law and what, exactly, that means. But, in the meantime, this series is...to be continued.

An Uncle's Searching Love: Werdnig Hoffman Disease

2/21/96 #1 HATONN

A BROTHER'S LOVE...

Perhaps my own soul weeps for that which comes upon mankind, my brethren, to the extent that sometimes I too do not wish to bear alone the burden of recognition of imperfection. Imperfection of anything IS and I cannot but accept that phenomenon of living organisms. However, as a heart and soul bonds with, say, a babe whilst recognizing that MAN will offer no "fix" for a particular deviation from perfection (normal), I weep right along with the whole of you.

On the yesterday in the midst of a day of insane limitation of deadlines which, if not met, would change our pathways forever, we paused to attend news, market reports, Comex runs, etc., and in "channel-hopping" comes some program on "hired killers". There were several of these "hired killers" on the program—in cold blooded soul-less humanoid form. These people will sell a kill for as little as $50. They admitted to it "being a job" and did in fact even compare themselves to CIA assassins who kill for the cause of money and "on orders". All, shiver now, said they didn't care if it be a baby, a pregnant woman—anyone! This is the chilling-out of your civilization where human life is of no more value than a $5 worthless Federal Reserve Note, much the less a $50 bill for a "fix" of some kind.

Then Dharma goes through the mail which has just arrived and the tearing apart of the mind in these two opposing directions caused me to choose to write on THIS NEXT subject today instead of immediately responding yesterday.

Two things came from Utah yesterday: this letter and a wonderful package of tea of a special blending of calming herbs. We enjoyed the loving sharing of the tea whose aroma filled the room with beauty and then we wept over this letter in the very hopelessness of what life has come to dump onto you wondrous human miracles. "Can I help?" pleads Dharma to me. Will I help? Ah, and what would allow me to assist in a world gone mad? Were it an allowing world in which healing would be acceptable, yes; in your world of insanity my help would bring down closure to all we have to offer. I can only explain mechanisms and allow you to decide for selves what are the possibilities.

In sharing you will have to recall your cellular life lessons so that you can remember a bit about genetic structuring, DNA, RNA, and recombinant genetic structure, recessive and dominant genes, and how an RNA blueprint is engraved on the crystal "chips" of DNA patterning. And how, if there are missing genes or mutation of genes to form alternate patterns, you have a different set of problems than with simply casting off biological life forms from your own perfect or imperfect structure. When you begin with missing links you cannot perfect the original structure without providing the missing part.

So today let us consider this letter and then have a bit of a lesson on possibilities in a perfect world.

WERDNIG HOFFMAN DISEASE (Spinal Muscular Atrophy Type I [SMA type I])

From R.B., Utah.

[QUOTING:]

I am writing in behalf of a brother of mine. He and his wife had a baby girl about 5 years ago that died of Werdnig Hoffman's disease. I have included a description of this below. They since have had two girls who are fine. About 2 months ago they had a little boy. Two weeks after birth he started showing symptoms of Werdnig Hoffman's disease.

I have read about colloidal silver and gold. I have also read about the research a man by the name of John Hudson [H: I know of no John Hudson who is into the work related here but I am fully aware of a David Hudson and wonder if this might be the same?] has done with monatomic gold. I also believe I read in one of the journals that the combination of colloidal silver, gold, and drias would have the same effect as monatomic gold. John Hudson claims that monatomic gold can fix DNA.

I am writing to ask you 1: Does monatomic gold fix DNA? 2: Does the combination of colloidal silver, gold, and drias, work like monatomic gold, and 3: Would monatomic gold help my nephew's condition? I gave my brother some GaiaCol, GaiaGold, Gaiandriana, and some AquaGaia. I also gave him a bunch of natural oils.

Here is a description of Werdnig Hoffman disease or Spinal Muscular Atrophy Type I (SMA type I):

"This disease is an autosomal recessive disease in which each parent carries the recessive gene which when combined in the child affects the anterior horn cells in the anterior horn region of the spinal cord. It is unknown whether or not the anterior horn cells are limited in number, or are just not working, or slowly stop working. The message to move gets from the brain to the spine and when it reaches the anterior horn cells, the message is not responded to by the muscles because it theoretically is not getting past the anterior horn cells. The symptoms of this disease are floppiness in the extremities, limited or no movement and breathing into the stomach because the chest muscles are not working. It is a neuromuscular disease which has an onset starting in the womb or up to one year of age. The child slowly loses control of muscles which results in tube feeding. These children usually pass away by the age of 2 from inability to make the breathing muscles work and in turn stop breathing, or by a respiratory disease."

The baby will die if something is not done. My family have prayed and fasted for him and have done everything we can do. We would all appreciate your help. We do accept the Creation's will for the baby. Thank you for your time.

Sincerely, RB

[END OF QUOTING]

Oh my, Father, give me wisdom. Allow me to assume that we speak here as a "blood" brother? We have to start back where the genetic structure MAY be whole. Many refer to a friend as a brother and this is not going to be quite so "direct" in response as if there is bloodline in this instance.

Since the problem is one of spinal cord DAMAGE we can deduce that it is a progressive problem for the infant. If the babe makes it to birthing while appearing to be "normal" then we have a whole set of possibilities from which to pick and choose. Number one: Is the disease correctly diagnosed or is there simply an assumption that because one child was diagnosed with this ailment that this one also suffers from the same? If you have continuing deterioration and affectation of the anterior horn cells and they "slowly stop working" you have all sorts of hope if action is quick enough. If the babe is simply deteriorating otherwise you have a different set of problems which indicate possible intervention. If the babe were paralyzed from birth you have little hope because of the total absence of substance which can be recovered. So, in this case you can ASSUME you have a deteriorating condition in which miracles can happen within the small body and mind.

I do not practice at medicine—I have no "patients" nor do I have "PATIENCE" with such foolishness as to pronounce death upon a newborn child. I only find ignorance in the medical profession. Scientists go forth and alter genetic structures for the heck of it—why don't they splice-in the missing genetic structure? So, why don't I, you might well ask. So be it.

You will note the SYMPTOMS are exactly the same as are experienced with Christopher Reeve, your Superman, following his fall. He did NOT incur a severed spinal cord—but smashed structures to the extent of damaging the spine—but the symptoms are almost identical. So, this is not necessarily a mandatory death sentence, is it? In fact, if you have a cellular-genetic error in parental combination, the problem of instructions to the new babe's individual system is somehow flawed, and since it is a deteriorating disease, it indicates here that something continues to go wrong, and if it is a continuing process then alteration can take place. With God all things are possible.

With medicine, in this case at least, the edict has been passed forward that there is no cure and treatment aims to keep the affected infant as comfortable as possible while waiting to make transition—period.

Would monatomic gold "fix" this problem? Yes and no. If there is such destruction of the gene presence as to be absent programming from the system of the babe—not probably—but possibly.

You are missing in your listing above the MOST important solution: OxySol. This offers the "chip" replacement upon which the DNA can be re-recorded but, at this time in our evolution, there would be required several things and I AM NOT ALLOWED TO TELL YOU THOSE THINGS DIRECTLY. I CAN HYPOTHESIZE a bit and you can consider that which you would.

For a "fix" of a broken system you at least have to have the broken "parts". If the problem is a lessening and then the absenting of a "part" from the living system, it has to be replaced from somewhere for there is nothing upon which to glue the system back into place without missing parts. Since everything is connected to everything, we know we need replacement parts if one is missing and, with that assumption, we can consider the problem and sort possibilities.

When the damage works its way down the spine you can realize that when it wipes out the ninth vertebra area you are headed for irreversible damage if not stopped in the degenerative processing.

I would first suggest you do a bit of seemingly silly test and flick the little fingernail, at the tip, of either the second, third, or fourth finger. If there is no reflex, that is good news. If the reflex is present, it will cause a flexion of these fingers and maybe also the thumb. Its presence indicates tendon reflexes are HYPERACTIVE. This will in turn cause eventual muscle spasms as from "drawing-up" the tendons. Now we can establish the nerve action. If you have hyperactive tendons you will have a shutdown of the nervous system in order to, hopefully, support the muscle system to the extent of salvaging muscles. Eventually the system shuts down entirely as it can no longer counter the continual confused impulses and responses.

So we now have an idea of what is perhaps taking place and then we can consider what might affect the system enough to "hold" while fortifications are offered.

Gaiandriana offers the PERFECT cellular structure awaiting programming to individual blueprint. But it also needs the "parts" if it is to program into the system, specific data.

In a perfect world of non-interference it would be simple to find a blood brother, in this instance you can't use the parents because they carry flawed genes. Actually the genes are not flawed; they just can't "combine" properly to produce a non-flawed newly developing system. This aside, it would be very simple to introduce a tiny, tiny bit of the child's blood along with a blood relative's (actually it wouldn't have to be a blood relative but a known non-genetically-compromised person's blood). I don't mean great gobs of blood which could inter-react, but I speak of a minute amount of DNA cells. The most tiny amount that can be diluted to almost nothing is sufficient. This would be added (both) into GaianDRIANA so the Drias can select, cast out the invaders, sort the genes and PERFECT the crystalline blueprint on the "chips". This DOES require the presence of MONATOMIC gold to WRITE the program—especially in the case of NERVOUS SYSTEM INVOLVEMENT.

The reprogramming of the child's DNA to the perfect gene from the donor would then reprogram the system. Meanwhile, the Gaiandriana can carry part of the oxygen supply as the child struggles to breathe. In your limited world of allowances you can't do this properly so you and I are stuck having to use only God's will and Divine hope—but not without possibilities. Gaiandriana is the perfect "carrier" for the cellular structure moves immediately within the cells of the body. Taken orally it is partially destroyed by the body fluids but nonetheless if all formula and ingested fluids bear at least one or two ounces of the Gaiandriana it would be sufficient.

What would I do? Well, I would begin with this very diluted and tiny amount of blood from both, as above, and introduce it gently and lovingly into a container of Gaiandriana with a bit of AquaGaia (this will be totally converted into cells and offer mitochondria to support the newly adjusting cells). Any possible microbiotic invaders are cleared out and used as fuel to aid proper programming. I would leave that solution open in the direct sunlight for about five days until totally transformed and use it for "water" in everything fed to the child. I would increase the gold intake by using the gold colloid in every intaken bottle of food or mixed into the food, as well as a drop or two of silver colloid and added OxySol. This gives the babe new genetic patterns from which to choose and it will usually choose the correct cellular structure. In fact, if allowed to mature with the added elements as above mentioned, the Drias will perfect the cell and allow for the merging within the system of the "imperfect" organism.

You must understand that each individual has a "genetic code" and just as with any "code" if some of the language or parts are missing, you can't perfect the communication. If offered the correct elements, the code can be completed and communication can resume. The nervous system converts gold to its elemental atom (mono-atom) so yes, indeed, there must be the element from which to draw and in the case of this dis-ease irregularity it needs to move to those "anterior horn cells". This is example only, for explanation, for in this disease it is NOT actually the horn cells, anterior or otherwise, that is the problem.

So, RB, Father has answered my petition and I pass it to you. God bless you for asking. I also suggest that you get SILICA gel from the health store and make sure the child gets some EVERY day. And remember something important: you cannot get too much Gaiandriana! It has been successfully used for full-system transfusion with amazing results.

I would suggest to any new parent to also supplement feedings with GAIALYTE into which is dissolved, relative to the age and size of the child, Spelta flour. Just blend it into the mixture with the formula or, in the case of Gaialyte, just mix it in. Those electrolytes are mandatory and Spelta is the perfect grain to supply nutrients and protein in a useable form. In fact, we could make baby formula from this grain as a base that would surpass everything or anything on your market, including soybean milk. Add it to soy milk and you have a real whammy.

Watch this child carefully for when the babe can turn self it will usually put itself into a "frog-like" position and lie very "still". This will be the position of choice so make sure the child is not allowed to do this for great periods of time. If a child survives this problem there is no need to have deformities develop. God bless you, son; may wisdom always guide your pathway as well.

WHYS AND WHEREFORES

I am asked by some, "Why do you write of 'personal' things in a paper where we wait for revelations?"

Because I don't give "revelations"—that has already been done. So, what you really mean is, "Why are you not giving market insight and psychic readings instead of boring us with another man's problems?"

THE "OTHER MAN'S PROBLEMS" ARE YOUR PROBLEM!

CHRISTOPHER REEVE AND A UTAH BABE

You who would have watched Christopher Reeve on Larry King Live last evening (and you should have), you would see that Sipapu Odyssey is a PERFECT tale for HIM to tell, act and direct—or at the least—act in the lead role. Moreover, the child with the paralyzing syndrome (yesterday's writing) [see p. 16] has the more urgent form of spinal damage—from whatever cause. We MUST learn to connect everything to everything or we can't make it through here in good shape while continuing to GROW.

Revelation? Well, I can promise Reeve that he will be fine because he has the faith and the signs of full recovery. Meanwhile, look what an opportunity GOD has granted him TO MAKE A DIFFERENCE. You see, he could play the lead role in Sipapu without any more healing at all—but the very act of doing the play would assure his healing because WE would be working WITH him. But SOMEBODY(S) need to reach through the barricades to reach him and inform him and show him the story—Wally Gentleman and George Van Noy can't do it all, readers. Now you HAVE another place to reach this man:

Christopher Reeve

% American Paralysis Association
500 Morris Ave.
Springfield, NJ 07081.

If several of you send him the book, the promise, and the love—watch for the miracle. Offer a way to get word back to Wally Gentleman:

Wally Gentleman

% George Van Noy
2021 Ocean Park Blvd.
Santa Monica, CA 90405.

The screen play will be re-written in such a way that from prior pictures there can be file copies of full physical strength—OR we can film the picture from the time of the accident and let the first opening shots be filmed LAST in order to fit the physical needs of the body. There is nothing wrong with either Reeve's body or mind—only a few governing circuits are "down". If ENOUGH bring this to his attention—HE WILL HEAR! Wally Gentleman has funding resources to back up a full-out participation of Reeve and Robyn Williams—and what a GIFT of HOPE to humanity would be this picture. We could also then follow on with other pictures but the door will be open to then do such as the story of Cathy O'Brien, Kelly and Mark.

I am going to herein also ask that Karen call the American Paralysis Association, 1-800-225-0292, and find out their address and how to directly get things through to CHRISTOPHER. Then we can offer it to you. The barrage of Sipapu Odyssey books must and will get his attention in that so many people support him. He doesn't need another wheelchair-roll role wherein he just pushes around gathering sympathy, LET US MAKE A DIFFERENCE! We can make that difference by MAKING SURE WE SPEAK OUT AND ASK. GOD WORKS IN SUCH WONDROUSLY MYSTERIOUS WAYS TO PERFORM HIS WONDERS—AND MIRACLES! Why load Karen with another task? Because she is Wally Gentleman's right hand person and will be a major personnel and planning person in the Movie Industry here. Remember that we all do what is necessary in the beginning of any great revolution of any kind—and then we settle into what our talents wish to do. There is rarely the luxury of doing "what you think you want to" in creating a better idea or working toward a better and more perfect IDEAL.

So, if we do not share the adventures of personal PEOPLE like yourselves and ourselves—how else can we bond with one another to accomplish good works? We must have "connection" and continuity of purpose.

ARKANSAS

I can, lest you have forgotten the seemingly long ago—guarantee you that YOUR focus on the Arkansas mess during the time of "Snell" has worked its way around to in-depth investigations and those dastardly people such as Governor Jim Guy Tucker are taking a SOUND THRASHING in Arkansas these days. I think that excuse for a "man" thumbing his nose at you—the people in his criminal and selfish modes of operation has destroyed himself. Unfortunately, with all the emphasis on such as Tucker—the Clintons get away with, yes, murder.

You of other states won't even know of that which I speak on this particular day—except that some readers in that area made sure that CONTACT GOT THE INFORMATION. Notice that everything of investigative nature into those Arkansas CRIMES, is now on hold or on the "back burner" for the show-and-tell of the political circuits with their false promises and lies. The politicians will now make all their "revelations" according to what any given group of people WANT TO HEAR!

So what is different? Ah, I thought you would never ask. A Constitutional Convention was on the ballot in Arkansas and Tucker was so sure it was a sure thing in passage that he has basically made a pure ass of himself over the issue. IT WAS RESOUNDINGLY DEFEATED! THAT IS WHAT PEOPLE CAN DO IF THEY GET INFORMED—TOGETHER. TOGETHER, YOU WILL STOP THE INSANITY OF VOTED-IN CRIMINALS AND, THEREFORE, CRIMINAL ACTIONS WILL BE VOTED OUT.

WHO TO VOTE FOR— AND NEW MONEY!

What does this heading have in common in the two phrases? Lots. I trust, and hope, that you noted the 19th of February coming and going—and NO new currency exchange!?? What about today? Are the banks closed today? Do you see that "revelations" are not particularly accurate? Not only are the banks OPEN but the charge upward in the stock market is bewildering in its climb. I can offer you what is offered to me—but YOU must live in what IS and what IS HAPPENING—for whatever reason it might be transpiring. Look to the short term only for warnings, if considering the market and economy—BUT LIVE FOR THE LONG-TERM IN YOUR GOALS. If you realize the show-and-tell of whatever is happening—you won't be tossed about on the sea of "what to do" every hour of each day! If you are PREPARED for the WORST—then the best is only a more recognized and wondrous BLESSING.

If we only focus on the gold coin of the moment—how can we ever hope to change the system—OR CURE SPINAL CORD DIS-EASE?

PERSONAL INFORMATION

I know you weary of hearing, say, of E.J. and Dharma's earthly struggles. but what are they to do? If I am so attached to Dharma as to keep her busy, how can she pack her now meagre belongings to move out of this dwelling where the offices are, computers are, and our work IS without impacting the work and, thus, YOU. YOU deserve to know what is taking place. By sharing this path with us you not only deserve to know but have the RIGHT to know and she needs to understand and this is how we ALL communicate in the present.

Ah, but Green will tell you that the Ekkers "secretly" own the house and that they have millions of $$$$. Ah so? Then it is certainly strange that they have a vacate notice effective the end of this month (29th February) because the rent was not paid, and that because of lawyer stripping of their only funds! So, we struggle to get back the funds through legal recourse and it must be attempted for all of us and it must be seen that this careful confrontation can MAKE A MAJOR DIFFERENCE—BY ITS OUTCOME. The laws are VERY CLEAR on the point of this being unlawful in taking of Social Security Funds, etc., and in this day of constant litigation this same thing will and does TOUCH ALL OF YOU. If it can happen here and under these circumstances it WILL HAPPEN everywhere and to you as well. Confrontations of the "wrongs" must be immediate and not cast aside for "another" day which never comes, but the laws get worse. That latter course of non-action is what has brought you to NOW in the sad state of affairs. This is WHY the CLC is going to offer a full course school in Pro Per legal actions. YOU can't afford further devastation through the outrageously bad lawyer system of injustice. In Pro Per can offer you some good advantages without greater costs than those perfidious attorneys must pay. This gives YOU a decided advantage in working change because it says, "I will not be further stomped and deceived." It does mean more hours spent in educating selves, researching laws, learning proper language and formats—but in the end, IT WILL PAY AND THE RECEIVER OF THE PAY WILL BE YOU! Won't that be a nice change?

WE CAN LIGHT THE LAMPS—YOU MUST KEEP THE FUEL FOR THE WICK AND FLAME. THERE IS NO MYSTERY WE CANNOT UNFOLD AND THE PRIESTS OF THESE TEMPLES WILL FALL OF THEIR OWN DECEITFUL WEIGHT. THE FUEL IS "KNOWING"!

In this property example the new circumstance is, of course, that now the owner of the property can't handle any more problems with this property in constant and chronic dispute, can't pay his own mortgages and lawyers and can see no way of finishing the project first intended. Therefore, MAJOR circumstance changes bring about cause for other CHANGES. This latest comes via the fact that the "new" owners are going to abandon their own original plans. This seemingly comes, in miserable timing, just prior to, FINALLY, after over seven years, of getting a court date set for a jury trial. And through that trial comes hope for some type of "recovery".

Life is what happens, friends, while you make those other plans and nothing here is different from your own dooryard. You must play with the hand dealt and not that "druther" hand your neighbor may have gotten. Then you work to build your own into the WINNING hand.

With allowances for office space remaining unchanged temporarily, the Ekkers have rented a tiny apartment in which to move. However, they will be allowed continued use of the office space until the time of sale, with conditions agreed upon to work from this location and continued rental fees. The continued office allowance costs will be, in return, for attending the care and upkeep of the property and to be available to "show" the property to prospective buyers. Is this insult to injury? No, it gives WORKING space and TIME to relocate the mountains of files and storage needs. The housing market is slow, so who knows, perhaps the property won't sell, after all, until such time as the trial date comes and passes and perhaps circumstances will change again. Perhaps the inconvenience of having to move will be exactly THE THING that will cause a jury to make allowances in favor of Ekkers' petition. Then all sorts of possibilities might become available. Don't bury your horse before it dies, friends, for with tending, it might just live a long and healthy life.

How many wondrous gains do you MISS because you ASSUME there are no "ways out"? How often do you "give up" just short of winning the game? Check your goals and accept nothing less in the end, and "anything" that comes, along the way.

Now, why do I burden you readers with this? Because we will have to have changes of address, mail shifted, phones forwarded or changed and how else are you readers going to find "me"? This is not to gain sympathy as this particular need for change actually increases the viability and credibility of the circumstances which, by the way, have been misrepresented to the "opposition". This one seemingly dreadful thing can actually offer great gain for Ekkers, in the long haul. This "opportunity" has come about because Horn has represented many different clients and in that malpractice and unethical mode he has hurt his own clients and has weakened his own case, especially as would be presented before a jury. He has also been counting on using the lies of Green and utilizing Green as a SECRET SURPRISE WITNESS against the Ekkers for well over two years. The opposition "thinks" Green will testify and end the matter by wiping out the Ekkers. This "inconvenience" may actually end up being the VERY THING THAT WINS THE CASE FOR EKKERS. For one very good point: in all of the other things Green has done to destroy—he has only destroyed, in court, his own integrity and credibility. He is now recognized as a liar and a thief and is not considered a credible witness—in any case in any court. He certainly won't be acceptable in THIS case, because we KNOW that what he has told the opposition simply IS NOT SO. He CANNOT know how things were or went in the beginning of this case—because he did not even KNOW Ekkers or anything about Tehachapi OR this case. Our only real hope is that they keep right on in intention of bringing him in for nothing we can dream of would be so helpful TO US!

Readers, you have to stay on top of things and know that you can find the POSITIVE attitude and action in EVERY happening. GOD'S DELAYS ARE NOT GOD'S DENIALS. This knowledge does not, however, make more hours in a day or any task necessarily "easier"—but perhaps "easy" is not the right answer and a bit of inconvenience and difficulty can finally "save the day". "Winning" rarely comes in the form you expect nor do God's answers to YOUR PRAYERS. If you expect to make great changes—you must be able to accept necessary changes in your own perceptions AND SOME INCONVENIENCES ALONG THE WAY. Remember also that there must be basis for every parable and example. That means "somebody" has to walk the path FIRST. We must have better than a "calf path" [see p. 7] if we hope to prevail in change for a better actuality and realization.

When we can learn how to best help ourselves, then and only then can we be somewhat qualified to help another, lest we simply be blind and lead the blinded brother into the ditch. If we become equally blind we fail to see what is right before us. Perhaps, for instance, we trot merrily off on our quest and follow Lord Natas only to find in the "finding" that Lord Natas is only Drol Satan spelled backwards. We must work in the system, within the system, through the system—as it presents—and then, only then, can the system change of itself while the unjust fall of their own deceit.

Remember that Christopher Reeve will offer more in a lifetime BECAUSE of his injury than he ever could have accomplished otherwise. Let us not disown our problems and inconveniences—let us respect them and see what can be gained from the experience.

When you spend your living moments preparing for and organizing for, death—you are already dead. Ponder it.

Besides, "this too shall pass," one way or another! Let us always make the passing BETTER than it was before we walked this way.

RONN JACKSON—AGAIN?!

I note that we are back to the ebb and flow of the Ronn Jackson ongoing story. Is he for real? Is he a fraud? Is he dead or alive? What about this new "stuff" he is telling about MJ-12 and on and on and on. I told you all along to not discount Ronn Jackson. No, it is not "right" what has happened—but there is so much you cannot know that you must not be guilty of JUDGING the totality of this man. We can disapprove of the actions of any given person—but when you know ALL you may well again have to change your minds. If he has not grown and changed then he will get his own come-uppance. I don't need to comment on silica, sandclones, or alien ANYTHING. If they are there—they are there. If they are radioactive in presentation then they are radioactive in presentation although it sure sounds like a rerun of X-Files to me. On the other hand, there is more to the X-Files than you might suppose. I do know ONE THING: Mr. Jackson will do what he can do to meet his agreements with ME. So, what that solve his problems? Not all of them but it will surely go a very long way toward that end.

One thing he says these days is worthy of note if you are in the market, GET OUT.

I believe that, rather than move off into beginning a new topic, we should just have a shorter writing today. There is much left to do on the necessary court documents for tomorrow. Let us never lose focus on our GOAL and GOD (which IS our goal) and the things of life happenings will fit nicely where they belong—in the experiencing of the lessons that we must learn to show the way.

Salu.

PHOENIX JOURNAL

SIPAPU ODYSSEY

This was THE first work by "dharma", thought to be a Fantasy but now appreciated as the beginning of an en-Light-ening Reality Journey. With help from Little Crow of the Lakota, Dharma's public mission of translation for Higher Teachers begins here, as a sensitive love story of the Purification Times, which brings together a mystical "ancient" group from the "past", a Pleiadian space expedition from the "future", and some awakening volunteers from Earth's "present".

Sipapu Odyssey is in the early stages of being made into a motion picture utilizing the Pleiadian advanced technology of Futuronics.

Ruling By Deception Thru New World Church Order

2/24/96 #1 HATONN

LOOKING HERE AND THERE

I am accused of being a bigot and a trouble maker. How can that be? I CANNOT be either; can you also understand that I cannot be for I simply "AM"? I serve no MAN but I do serve in totality my Creator that we rather carelessly label God in order to lose HIM within the confusion of the meaning of God and gods. We WRITE of many things from many aspects of perception so that opinions might be drawn and conclusions reached based upon some facts which usually go unnoted as man buries the dark side of his truth and doctrine and presents the side, publicly, that he chooses. That, too, is fine with me. However, I do not need accept such views nor do I blindly accept any view. The "world" as it is recognized by experiencing mankind is illusion at best, unknown in its factual "order" and how, for instance can chaos bear "order". The two terms are opposites. God and Universe are "order"; mankind as he presents in his mental choices is "chaotic". God is ALL power but challenges without force. Man is basically without power and rules through force. Does this mean that God and Man are also opposites? No, it means that HU-Man has the capacity to become higher and more noble than that which he presents in his physical expression. Man rules by doctrines—GOD EXISTS THROUGH LAWS OF UNIVERSAL, NEVER-CHANGING EXPRESSION.

Mankind looks upon happenings in a perception of good or bad according to personal interpretation, i.e., a storm in April which is necessary for crops but destroys hopes of an early year picnic is described in terms according to the needs and wishes of each individual regarding that storm.

Can a "One World Order Government" ever work? No, because of the one wondrous word "world". In a world of physical expression you can have ORDER under good Laws BUT YOU CAN NEVER HAVE PEACE OR FREEDOM THROUGH FORCE NO MATTER WHAT MIGHT BE YOUR "RELIGION" AND, OF COURSE IF YOU HAVE A ONE WORLD GOVERNMENT ORDER—YOU WILL ALSO HAVE TO HAVE A ONE WORLD RELIGION. This is simple assumption. LOVE is truth when it is added, multiplied, divided and evil is subtracted. CONTROL is accomplished by adding and multiplying force, dividing one from another and by subtracting good. Therefore, God in infinite wisdom allows freedom of THOUGHT in that Man might grow. A "New WORLD Order" plans to control and disallow freedom so that Man is bound and shackled to "existence".

SUPERSTITIONS AND MYTHS

It sounds really good when someone comes along and tells you his "is the only way". You can follow or not follow his regime but basically you can discount his message UNLESS he is powerful enough in the New World Order to cause you to be FORCED to accept his input. You can take my lessons and do whatever you want with them for you need follow NO MAN. You can toss the writings right into the trash can. My mission is not to shove something down your throats but I am sent to tell you Truth of Universal expectations according to the unchanging ORDER of Universal life and brotherhood. Each individual person will SEE that prospective possibility from as many individual vantage points as there are individuals and migrating souls. There doesn't even need to be "soul" to have an opinion. However, as man hides from the Universal Truth of God Creator's Universe (YOUR universe) he turns to the dark expressions of physical pleasure instead of the JOY of goodness. It is THE mark of the beast and it is THE mark which must be avoided if the soul is to travel within the higher dimensions of the wondrous and higher consciousness of HU-MAN.

Since Higher Universal Man is already experiencing in those HIGHER dimensions—the lesser intent is not acceptable so it is noted that until lessons are learned the evil perpetrators are restricted in astral levels of physical bindings. Man is shackled in a physical classroom and in a physical perception until lessons break through the dark wall of intent and Individual Man awakens to his Truth of Being. Because I know this truth and pronounce no edicts upon you, save the probabilities of expectation, I CANNOT be either Bigot or Troublemaker. I repeat: I simply "AM".

HOW DO YOU GET "AROUND" FACTS?

How do you, then, get around the "facts" if you don't believe or do not choose to LIKE my writings? You simply detach "Hatonn" and lay a hard trip on Dharma. If that doesn't work—go for the kill and blame the human beings who annoy you. Once introduced, "just in case...", I find that ones really don't like to denounce me too hard—just sort of cover by misspelling my label, excusing their thrusts with, "Well, I believe that...", etc. Fine, believe anything you want to believe—but the ACTIONS, ah yes, the ACTIONS, continue to speak very, very loudly indeed. When you rattle and prattle, excuse and deny—what are you actually doing? Avoiding the issue in almost every instance is what is the outcome of the actions. The more dastardly the intent, the more silly the excuses in evasion of confronting the issue instead of the ridiculous peripheral nonsense.

DELAYS AND COUNTER DELAYS

How can and why should, for instance, delays be continually accomplished in lawsuits? How can a cut-and-dried fact be so debased as to go on for decades? Intentionally, of course. Manipulations in an unjust system produce capabilities of continuation of unjust circumstances. It is not always the other guy's fault or conquest—it is fully attached to the person who is "helping". Let us look at some local facts—why would delays be acceptable? Well, delays are necessary in some instances for the opposition to ALLOW STATUTE OF LIMITATIONS TO EXPIRE! If, for instance, your legal guide is involved in shenanigans with the opposition parties in some instances—is it not to his advantage to delay everything revolving around his own indiscretion to expire limitation statutes?

GAIA'S PREMIUM ALL NATURAL

ALOE VERA JUICE CONCENTRATE

Aloe Vera has a long and impressive history that spans hundreds of centuries, countries and cultures, and appears in countless "folk remedies" as a plant revered for its healing qualities.

Aloe Juice is a whole-leaf concentrate prepared from the freshly harvested leaves of the Barbadosis Miller Aloe Vera plant. Aloe Juice guarantees a minimum of 10,000 mg. of mucopolysaccharides per liter.

The nutrients reported in Aloe Vera include mucopolysaccharides and polysaccharides (glucmannans), glycoproteins, glucose, mannose, galactose, xylose, arabinose, tannins, steroids, organic acids, antibiotic principles, glucuronic acids, enzymes (oxidase, catalase and amylase), trace sugars, calcium oxalate, a protein containing 18 amino acids, "wound healing" hormones, biogenic stimulators, saponins, vitamins B1, B2, niacin, B6, choline, folic acid, chloride, sulfate, iron, calcium, copper, sodium, potassium, silicon, manganese, plus many other metabolism-assisting components.

For best results, most people drink 1 to 6 ounces per day. Many people enjoy drinking the juice without dilution. However, if desired, you may easily reconstitute the juice by adding water or you can flavor your Aloe with other juices such as apple, cranberry, or grapefruit juice. It is recommended that this daily Aloe supplement be taken in divided amounts during the day. We are eager for you to discover, as we have, the benefits of these scientifically advanced Aloe beverages and concentrates for your optimum nutritional health.

Example? Let me consider a moment: OK, if Mr. Dixon were involved with the Green Brigade, Gary Anderson's antics, foreign Trusts with Tips, etc., and worked within the very office structure where KNOWN unlawful acts took place—and, further, it was said he "knew about everything", would it not be wise to play out in delays the statute of limitations under the civil laws? Let us go further and note that great sums of money from loans were due and owing and that includes those loans under Mr. Dixon's authority—would it not be wise for himself and all his former colleagues to play out the statute of limitations rather than allow cases to be filed—even in Pro Per? Would it have to be INTENTIONAL? No, but it would be because you are dealing with brilliant minds—not stupid-brains. So what can YOU do? Well, you can play out the statute of limitations or you can act in your own behalf! You can't, however, do anything unless you get informed!

Why, you can ask yourself, did Mr. Dixon get thwarted at every turn of the legal process from being able to bring diversion of funds to legal action? It can be from too many corrupt people in too many places or it could be as simple as a delay awaiting a run-out of the statute of limitations in his own behalf or on the behalf of "those" others. Do you see, friends, how difficult it is to SEE everything? There is no way to know—for only the insiders can know the facts.

I can use Mr. Dixon without fearing some self-defensive battle over the example because he has done so much to HELP us all here that he can be sure that we would protect him against any foes he might have to confront. You see, Mr. Dixon, as in this example, LIKE YOU, has to confront his own set of standards, liabilities, and prospects for service or self-gain and CHOOSE. EACH MANKIND BEING IS NO DIFFERENT FROM ANY OTHER IN THAT EACH HAS TO CHOOSE—AND CHOICES WILL BE BASED ON THAT WHICH CAME BEFORE.

Readers, if you can KEEP mankind IGNORANT—you can control them at the least until it is too late to counter the controller's actions.

Did the above actions actually take place? Yes, so say those of the Green Brigade and others who worked within that circle. But did it ACTUALLY take place? Do you see that, as in this example, only Mr. Dixon KNOWS. It is much, readers, as in coloring your hair—"only your hairdresser knows for sure!" No, you knew long before you got to your hairdresser!

So, will the statute of limitations expire on some of these things for whatever reason? NO. Why? Because I have seen to it—in time.

Can you see that many are caught in the middle of something in which bad choices simply "happen"? It seems OK or "sort of" OK at the time a shrewd dealer comes along and then somebody sucks everyone into the trap and blackmail becomes the deal of the day. Still it is "OK" because there is only fringe involvement and knowledge and choices are still undecided until, one day—IT IS NO LONGER "UP FOR GRABS" AS TO CHOICES. You will forever be faced with your own actions, choices, reputation-painting and showing, and hard knocks regarding less than good choices or full commitments. Not just a few of some example or another to make a parable understood—but EVERY INDIVIDUAL AT SOME TIME OR ANOTHER—FACES CHOICES OF THESE MAGNITUDES. YOU HAVE TO DECIDE WHETHER OR NOT TO ASSIST HONORABLY IN TRUTH, SORT OF HIDE OUT AND ALLOW TIME TO SLIP AWAY WITHOUT DECIDING—OR SITTING THE FENCE AS LONG AS YOU CAN. I can promise you this much, however: the fence sitting or the active delaying will cost dearly in HEALTH, for your own body mechanisms actually become sick when you deliberately act in wrongful and deliberately wrongful ways.

We have a very good and, for now, stable relationship with Mr. Dixon and I want to honor the man, certainly, not offend him. He will be soon taking the helm to offer a school which will TEACH you-the-people to defend selves, help selves lawfully and correctly and stop the undue legal games from destroying you—if you wish to learn. He will actually be the focus of one of our CROWN JEWELS in recognition of "how to do it right!" Would any man miss such an opportunity to share such a gift with his fellow citizens and allow his beloved family to look upon him with respect and pride of parent? I hope not. But again, as with all things, man has to do what he will do—and that is not my business, do you see? I can provide OPPORTUNITY and KNOCK upon your door, nothing more.

Why would Bill Clinton, whom you all know, do the things he does? Because he HAS! It might well be a political and One World Order THING, but he simply has done whatever he has done, no more and no less. He is JUST LIKE YOU—he acts as he thinks it BENEFITS HIMSELF the most, and the rest of you, even unto his closest family, be damned and that, too, can find excuse for allowance. A man will act according to his foundation of strength—which must come from inner strength and not extra-outside force.

In any circumstance wherein TRUTH can be brought forth, it will come through the "joining with" him who first acted to protect the way. Then as each of you move within the "cause" there will be ever enlarging courses of actions to confront that which otherwise "gets away with dastardly deeds". Sometimes there is nobody to "do it FOR you" even in the actions of daily living where expertise is demanded by legal restraints. Therefore, you have to learn enough to step out there and protect SELF and those with whom you community lest the moment of truth in action be lost—forever!

Why, along these same thought lines, would some try to get Rick to NOT file against his wrongdoers? What are the opposing parties doing already? They are not arguing on the basis of no wrongdoing—but only on "jurisdiction" AND "expirations of statute of limitations" ON THEIR ACTIONS.

Please remember that you have to go back ALMOST three years to remind selves that Mr. Anderson and Mr. Green, at the least, diverted Constitutional Law Center funds to a We-The-People BANK ACCOUNT, UNLAWFULLY by intent or non-intent, IN COLORADO! This included lots of money and HOW could it be UNINTENTIONAL? In addition to this loss, there is also over $100,000 owed by the Common Law Service Center (Anderson and John) to the Phoenix Institute—and George owes now over half a million to the Institute in outright funds and diverted GOLD. Is it not to their benefit to play OUT THE STATUTE OF LIMITATIONS?

I use these examples, readers, because they are real, before us as we write, and are examples of what is taking place from the highest abusers of law and honor in the international intrigue to your neighbor next door. THIS ATTITUDE is what must be changed, not just a government or two. When MONEY instead of integrity is the GOAL, it is a very hard disease to overcome for each bears a price, but one you can "purchase" and the other has no price nor ability to purchase. Once, however, the BIG choice is made to always act in integrity—all those OTHER choices become indeed small. Perhaps you can only "light a candle" in this dark world and perhaps you can only support the candle bearer with a match with which to spark the flame—but that match MAKES THE ABILITY TO HAVE THE FLAME. Therefore, no gift, no contribution is lesser than another—ONLY DIFFERENT AND EQUALLY NECESSARY.

You people who run things have all the incorrect assumptions. Let me point out that in this day of disease the person who cleans the bathroom is the MOST IMPORTANT PERSON IN ANY PLACE. In all instances, the person who keeps the books is the MOST IMPORTANT PERSON in any organization as to BUSINESS. Why? Because they can destroy you if they are careless or deliberately "out to getcha!". When you of Earth consider equality I want to know WHY you cast off some of the jobs as being unworthy of YOUR GREAT POSITION? If you have no farmer to grow your food—YOU ARE GOING TO STARVE NO MATTER WHO YOU THINK YOU ARE!

Let us look through the mind of Mr. Calvin Buehrer for a minute at:

NEW WORLD CHURCH ORDER

by Calvin Buehrer

[QUOTING, PART 16:]

ONE WORLD GOVERNMENT

Who is behind the so-called "New World Order" which President Bush spoke of so often and his Establishment allies have been promoting? This came before George and will continue long after George—but it was thrust in your face BY NAME during Bush's reign as King.

The grand design for the New World Order has been in the works for a long time but now the schemers are beginning to talk publicly of their ultimate goal of a One World Government. The players are now publicly presented and the enforcers are named.

The Council on Foreign Relations (CFR), the Trilateral Commission (TC), United Nations (UN), World Council of Churches (WCC) and many other liberal organizations have been working on this grand design of One World Government for many years.

Little by little, our freedoms are being taken from us and we are being snared into the net of the One World Government.

In 1936 the Federal Register had only 2411 pages of Federal Regulations. By 1970 there were a total of 20,000 pages, by 1975 more than 60,000 pages and heaven only knows how many pages of "Regulatory Mayhem" there are today. Such a mass of conflicting chaos is not Democracy but a form of Socialism whose ultimate goal is a One World Government.

They have deviously arranged the International [Monetary] Fund (IMF) and World Bank (WB) so that all the nations of the world must go along with the New World Order or their funds will be cut and their loans will be called.

They now have established, in effect, a global Internal Revenue Service (IRS). All nations of the world must cooperate by taking necessary steps to recover tax claims. If you fall out of favor with the government of the day, you are in trouble, as this document virtually eliminates all national borders.

It is amazing how many of our sovereign rights we have lost in the last five years. Our World in Conflict is moving from Sovereign Nations with Sovereign Rights for its people to a one World Government that, in the name of "Peace", intends to act as the New World Order.

Where are the people, congress, church, schools and other American institutions that are supposed to protect the Sovereignty of America?

The New World Order establishment has been working diligently to destroy the virtues of America. Liberty is the luxury of self discipline.

The establishment has used the media, mainly television, by the use of the five memory laws, to hypnotize the American people into following an ideology in which Americans do not believe.

The self discipline which gave us the luxury of liberty, that brought us out of bondage, is fast decaying and soon we will fall under the bondage of the One World Government, with no place to run or escape.

What a pity. America, the nation that was born in faith, self discipline and hard work is now handing over its sacred sovereignty and freedom to the One World Government without a hint of a struggle.

Karl Marx, the father of Communism, was a Jew. Gorbachev of Russia is a Jew. If the New World Order was introduced by a Russian an American could understand it. George Bush, the President of the United States of America, is the first to speak in public of this Communist and Jewish Zionist New World Order.

The Protocols of the Elders of Zion laid the blueprint of this New World Order, at the turn of the century. Little by little, they have been able to gain their power position and are now ready to close the vise of their One World Government.

The answer as to who is behind the so called new World Order is, The Elders of Zion! This order of International Jews has gained control of the power of the world and the money of the world and now will soon begin their rule of the One World Government with a hellish reign.

[END OF QUOTING]

I would now share some excerpts from a book called NATURE'S ETERNAL RELIGION, by Ben Klassen, Chapter 9, pg. 104. I make no comment to the authority or conclusions of this writer nor the book's contents but I want to share a bit of incontrovertible recognition of some of the contents.

[QUOTING:]

FIVE JEWISH BOOKS

As we have seen from the history of the White Race and of the Jewish race, the Jews throughout their long and tortuous history have been the supreme masters of deceit. Whereas the Egyptians are no more, the Babylonians have disappeared, the (original) Greeks were mongrelized, the Romans perished, the Jews, on the other hand, are alive today, and going strong. They are, in fact, now in control of the world.

Why is it that this ... race, which could never even found a culture or a civilization, or manage to build a country of their own, has nevertheless come out on top?

If we analyze Jewish history, the answers are not too hard to come by. There are hundreds of reasons that could be listed, but basically they are these few:

1. Early in their history they recognized what a powerful weapon was religion—a weapon with which to unite their own race, and a weapon with which to destroy their enemies.
2. They learned that in racial unity there is strength. They have been fanatically dedicated to their own race.
3. They found that there is nothing more potent in unifying a group, nation or race than hating a common enemy. As a consequence all non-Jewish peoples have perpetually been their enemies, and always will be.
4. The Jews mastered the tricky technique of confuse, divide and conquer as a key in overcoming their enemies.
5. They have relentlessly organized—they have organized their own people into thousands of effective and all-encompassing groups. They have also organized their enemies for their own destruction.
6. They have been diabolically clever at propaganda. They have grasped early in their history what a powerful tool was propaganda with which to manipulate their enemies.

It is this last aspect we want to examine more thoroughly. Whereas the Jews are in complete control of today's propaganda and "news" media—radio, television, motion picture, newspapers, magazines, etc., they were already extremely adept at using propaganda before the modern means were even invented.

Manipulation of the word has been their specialty as Masters of Deceit. In St. John 1:1 the Jewish bible says: "In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the word was God." A strange claim indeed, but one loaded with meaning—a meaning that has escaped most Gentiles, especially the preachers. What this strange bit of hocus-pocus really means in Jew-language is that with words they can create Gods, and conversely words can become as powerful as a God in controlling and directing the minds and destinies of people.

The Jews have used words and propaganda profusely and relentlessly to their advantage and to the White Man's detriment, along with every other race of humankind on the globe. Although they have written and diffused millions of propaganda pieces, they have specifically written 5 books that have had a catastrophic effect on the history of mankind, and the White Race in particular.

These books are:

1. The Old Testament. It has been a powerful instrument in uniting the Jewish race.
2. The New Testament. It was written to confuse and confound the Romans in particular, and the White Race in general. It has been devastatingly effective.
3. The Talmud. It was compiled over several centuries to give the Jews a Code of Laws to live by and a formula by which they could successfully destroy the "Goyim", i.e., the White Race in particular.
4. The Protocols of the Elders of Zion. This was a modern distilled essence of the principles scattered throughout the Talmud but concentrated and brought up to date.
5. Karl Marx's Das Kapital and The Communist Manifesto. Together these two are the foundation and program for turning the Gentile peoples of the world into an organized Jewish slave labor camp. This program has already been successfully executed in Russia, Cuba, China and dozens of other countries now under the Jewish heel....

[END QUOTING OF PART 16]

It would seem that it always comes back around to the INFORMATION and its source. I don't and didn't write any of "those" books and I can only perceive content as to truth or "consequences" of anything. I must, however, base EVERYTHING in light of GOD'S LAWS IN LOGICAL REASON AND UNIVERSAL TRUTH.

I am a bit at a loss as to some information sent for my use which bears such quantities of information and truth and yet right off in the first paragraph the author blows his credibility. Perhaps it is from his lack of command of the language and misuse of terms; however, what he says indicates otherwise:

"I have pointed out repeatedly that I am not a religionist, although the Holy Bible is a book of scientific truth to me, I would never..."

"SCIENTIFIC" (?????) That book may be many things—but "scientific" is NOT among the descriptions of suitable perception. It may represent many things but scientific anything is certainly not among the choices. Of all things the Holy Bible is NOT, scientific is THE largest misfit.

Religions are SOCIAL ORDERS, clubs with doctrines, regulations and limitations of actions, beliefs and thus and so—just as are the Governmental "Orders" of the prevailing "club" and its membership. Spiritual TRUTH has little to do with ANY CLUB MEMBERSHIP! In the ending, readers, it comes down to two recognized entities—YOU and GOD! May the best WIN, which of course, is always "God" because "you" are within God Creator's most interesting and marvelous works. The name of the REAL game here, is SOUL, while you are TAUGHT to focus on the physical unreality of expression for a few years here and a few years there in a universe without "years" or "time" or "space".

"So what makes you so smart, Buster?" you might inquire. I have been there, friends, and gained a whole bunch of wisdom from the school of learning—AT SOUL PROGRESSION. I LEARNED the right and better WAY! So too shall YOU. Or, you will remain on the neverending wheel of entrapment. Soul moves toward eternal LIFE—body moves toward DEATH. The concept is simple enough, the game rules easy. I salute all who come to KNOW. Salu.
